BERLIN, May 7.—Theories that sabotage may have been responsible for the disastrous crash of the giant dirigible Hindenburg at Lakehurst were discredited by the Reich propaganda ministry today as officials prepared to launch a searching investigation of the disaster.

It was announced an official commission to investigate the crash will sail aboard the liner Europa from Cherbourg, France.

Members of the commission, which will include Dr. Hugo Eckener, famed airship commander and chief of the Zeppelin company, spent the entire night studying reports of the disaster cabled from Lakehurst.

Dr. Eckener left Graz, Austria, to join other members of the commission, who arranged to fly to the French port tomorrow morning.

An official of the propaganda ministry told International News Service:

"I cannot believe sabotage was responsible, but am unable to express a definite opinion pending arrival of the commission.'

It was understood the commission was chosen to make the probe at the express wishes of Chancellor Hitler and Air Minister Hermann Wilhelm Goering.

Air ministry experts, meanwhile,

Dr. Hugo Eckener Is Stunned By Disaster

GRAZ, Austria, May 7.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, designer and first commander of the giant dirigible Hindenburg which crashed in flames at Lakehurst, N. J., last night, today blamed the tragedy on possible sabotage.

"The disaster was most likely due to sabotage," he stated.

"We received anonymous threatening letters warning us not to land the Hindenburg at Lakehurst," Eckener said.

"It is impossible that the explosion was due to lightning. The Hindenburg was equipped with the most modern preventive apparatus against lightning accidents."

"Mind Not Made Up"

The aging veteran of the skies admitted, however, that his mind was not definitely made up as to the cause of the blast that sent the Hindenburg, Germany's pride and joy, to earth a blazing, shattered wreck.

"I am still too stunned by the

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The governments of the United States and Germany joined hands today in an intensive investigation of the Hindenburg disaster.

Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, whose department has jurisdiction over civil aviation, informed German Ambassador Hans Luther he immediately would assemble a special board of inquiry to determine the cause of the tragedy.

To Conduct Inquiry

At the same time, Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, announced a board of naval officers would conduct an independent investigation at Lakehurst, N. J., where the giant dirigible exploded as it was about to land.

HINDENBURG CRASH CAUSE WILL BE SOUGHT IN THOROUGH PROBES

Death Toll In Lakehurst Dirigible Disaster Of Thursday Night Is Between 31 And 37, According To Latest Reports — Several Theories As To Cause Of Tragedy — Fear Many Of Injured May Die

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 7.—A triple investigation into the mysterious fire and explosion which destroyed the giant German dirigible Hindenburg at 7:23 o'clock last night causing a death toll of at least 31—and possibly 37—and injuries to many other persons was launched here today.

The three investigating agencies are the Bureau of Air Commerce, the German government, through Dr. Hans Luther, retiring ambassador, and the American Zeppelin Transport Company.

Known Dead Placed At 31

At 10 a. m. the known dead, despite the confusion that surrounded available figures since the disaster last night, was definitely placed at 31.

Six other bodies were believed to be beneath the blackened ruins of the zeppelin.

Of the known dead, 27 bodies are in the temporary morgue in the big hangar here. The other four victims died during the night in hospitals near Lakehurst.

An undertaker and several assistants arrived at the morgue and began preparing the bodies for the coroner's inquest which was to be held shortly before noon. No relatives or friends had arrived to make further identifications.

Although earlier reports were that three investigating groups would work together, the Bureau of Air Commerce struck out on an independent inquiry headed by Fred Fagg, director of the bureau; Major R. C. Schroeder, assistant director, and George Ream, of Newark, inspector in charge of this area.

Shortly before the inquiry began the zeppelin company announced that four passengers previously reported dead or missing, had been located alive at their homes, or at the homes of friends.

Many of the survivors were believed to be seriously injured. The exact number of injured could not be determined early this morning as the victims were hastily rushed to hospitals. Ambulances arrived from Lakewood, Freehold, Jersey City, Trenton, Newark and other cities.

Cause Not Definitely Known

The cause of the disaster was not definitely known. One supposition was it was due to static electricity which ignited the highly inflammable hydrogen gas in the Hindenburg. The other theory was that a backfire from one of the engines set fire to the gas.

Steps were taken by the United States Navy and the aviation bureau of the Department of Commerce to conduct prompt investigations to determine the cause of the catastrophe.

Commander C. E. Rosendahl of the Lakehurst naval air station announced that 26 bodies had been recovered and that seven bodies still were unaccounted for.

In addition he stated a civilian member of the ground crew, Alan Hagerman, of Lakehurst, had died of burns sustained in recue work.

Rosendahl said he had informed the Navy Department in Washington that "it is entirely too early to hazard any guess as to the origin of the fire." Investigation to determine the cause of the fire and explosions will be started today, he added.

Mass Of Smouldering Wreckage

As dawn crept across the countryside, the Hindenburg lay across the field, a mass of twisted and smouldering wreckage.

Coast guardsmen ordered to the scene from all along the Jersey shore formed a ring around the ruins. Spectators were not allowed within hundreds of yards from the ruins.

Twenty one bodies had been taken from the wreckage up to 5 a. m. nine of them lay side by side in a room in the hangar, and twelve other bodies were in the field hos-

PRESIDENT CABLES SYMPATHY

Deeply Concerned By Air Tragedy

U. S. Aviation Branches Ordered To Aid In Investigation Of Crash Cause

PRESIDENT GETS REPORTS OF EVENT

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

GALVESTON, Tex., May 7.—By direction of President Roosevelt, from his fishing yacht in the Gulf of Mexico, aviation branches of the American government today were leading every effort to the German government to ascertain the cause of the disastrous crash of the Zeppelin Von Hindenburg at Lakehurst.

The president, deeply concerned over the tragedy, was understood to have sent word to Washington to extend this courtesy to Germany after cabling Chancellor Adolf Hitler his sympathy over the explosion of the Nazi dirigible. His message to Chancellor Hitler said:

"I have just learned of the disaster to the airship Hindenburg and offer you and the German people my deepest sympathy for the tragic loss of life which resulted from this unexpected and unhappy event."

Last night full reports of the Von Hindenburg disaster were relayed to the Potomac from Washington and the president waited, with the rest of the nation, for further details of the tragedy.

UNITED STATES AND GERMANY TO PROBE HINDENBURG CRASH

aster, Roper assured Luther this government would do everything in its power to fix responsibility.

Aeronautical experts of the Bureau of Air Commerce, including Director Fred Fagg and Assistant Director R. W. Schroeder left for Lakehurst a few hours after the accident.

Accompanied by Gen. Friedrich Von Boetticher, military attache to the German embassy, Luther flew to Lakehurst shortly before midnight to survey the wreckage and question survivors.

Possibility Of Sabotage

Possibility of sabotage was advanced in statements by the ambassador and Roper.

"No stone will be left unturned to determine the exact cause," the secretary said. "While it is far too early to speculate on what the cause might have been the possibility of sabotage as well as every other phase of the catastrophe will be examined very thoroughly."

Luther announced he would concentrate his efforts on learning whether sabotage was instrumental in bringing the luxurious airship to earth in flames.

"I am confident there was no technical mistake," the ambassador said. "I have the greatest confidence in Captain Ernst Lehmann who ranks second only to Dr. Hugo Eckener in his skill in handling lighter-than-aircraft.

To Sift Great Catastrophe

"I am certain the American government will do everything it can to sift this great catastrophe for its cause. Secretary Roper has assured me every aid in investigating this explosion was available."

Roper's board of inquiry is to be composed of air commerce bureau officials and probably will convene Monday.

Although German diplomatic representatives and officials of the airline that operated the Hindenburg will sit in at the deliberations, none will be selected as board members.

An opinion by commerce department solicitor South Trimble held that under the law Roper can name only regular departmental personnel to the investigating body.

"The department has authority to investigate all matters pertaining to civil aviation through its constituted officers," Trimble said. "While the Hindenburg is a German ship, it was engaged in civil aeronautical operations in the United States at the time it crashed. This accident, therefore, must be treated in the same fashion as a domestic accident.

The navy department is conducting its own inquiry since the disaster occurred at the naval air station at Lakehurst. Facilities of the station were leased to operators of the Hindenburg more than a year ago. In addition, as part of the leasing agreement, two American naval officers were permitted to fly as observers.

magnitude of the disaster to form a definite opinion," Eckener said.

"I cannot conceive how the explosion occurred, and I probably will have to go to New York to investigate the causes.

"I don't see how this will affect future construction, which is almost certain to proceed."

This was accepted as indication that work on the LX-130, a giant dirigible now under construction in Germany, and which had been slated to act as a sister-ship of the Hindenburg, will continue despite the catastrophe at Lakehurst.

He first presented Rev. C. Warren Jones, president of the board of trustees, and Robert Young, student representative, both of whom spoke briefly.

He reported splendid progress upon every line and presented a bright prospect for the future of Eastern Nazarene college. The college male quartet provided several numbers at the close, greatly to the appreciation of the audience.

Song Writer Here

At 6:30 last evening a profitable music hour was enjoyed by the delegates and visiting Nazarenes, under the direction of Haldor Lillenas, of Kansas City, Mo., a noted publisher and song writer.

Mr. Lillenas led the congregation in singing some songs that he had written, and sang for them a special number, "Beautiful Hands." Later with Miss Mary Olson, a duet, "His Name Is Engraved on My Heart," was offered.

Mr. Lillenas gave several interesting ancedotes connected with his early experience as a song writer and presented valuable hints to pastors and song leaders to aid them in their work. Several other singers assisted Mr. Lillenas in the program.

At 7:30 Mrs. Dell Aycock led the twelve hundred fifty people, then assembled, in some further singing, and Rev. J. C. Lambert, of Lansing, Mich., led in prayer.

Rev. and Mrs. Aycock sang in a duet, "In This Land" and then the former brought an enthusiastic gospel message which at one time was interrupted for several minutes by the shouts and demonstrations of the appreciative audience.

In the course of the address the convention evangelist told his audience that "for more than six thousand years God has built a record for keeping His word, and is faithful to all of his wonderful promises" He also stressed the fact that "there are thousands of living Christians who can testify to a vital experience of divine grace in their hearts. To his closing appeal fifteen responded for prayers.

Additional Visitors

Additional visitors noted in the audience yesterday were Revs. J. C. Lambert, Oscar Finch, O. L. Leach and Edward Gallup, from the Michigan district, Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Chatfield from the Northen Indiana district, Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Liest from the Ohio district, Rev. W. E. Johnson and Rev. G. T. Spiker from the Washington-Philadelphia district, Rev. James H. Jones from Jameson, N. Y., and Rev. A. H. Kauffman, missionary on furlough from Jerusalem.

Business sessions of the assembly will probably be concluded Saturday morning.

Young People's Rally

For Saturday afternoon a great Young People's Rally has been planned to which young people will come from all over the district. Rev. Ernest Marsh, young people's president, of Ellet, Ohio, will preside over the gathering. Rev. Jarrette Aycock from Oklahoma will bring the main address. As a special feature, Miss Lou Quiggon will present her oration, "How Our Bible Reached Us" an oration which won the prize in a contest held in New Castle last October at the young people's convention. Short reports will be given by district officers and the E. N. C. quartet will sing.

Closing Services Sunday

Sunday the assembly will move into the main auditorium of the Cathedral. At 8 a. m. there will be an ordination service in charge of Dr. Chapman. At 9 o'clock an hour's service will be held in behalf of the Sunday school interests. At 10 o'clock, the morning service will be conducted with General Superintendent Chapman as speaker.

Sunday afternoon a missionary rally is scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock. Three missionaries will be present to speak briefly and take part in the program: Rev. A. H. Kauffman, on furlough from Jerusalem, Rev. Arthur Savage, under appointment to Africa, and Rev. G. H. Keeler, outgoing missionary to the Cape Verde Island. Dr. Chapman will again bring the main address.

Sunday evening will bring the closing evangelistic service of the convention week. It will begin early at 6 o'clock, to enable some of the delegates to drive to their homes afterward. Rev. Jarrette Aycock will speak.

Akron Zeppelin Builders Offer Aid With Probe

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., May 7—The Goodyear Zeppelin Corp., builder of dirigibles and semi-rigid baloons, today extended all its facilities to investigators of the Hindenburg crash.

Dr. Karl Arnstein, vice president and designing engineer, was to depart by plane for Lakehurst today, following Lieut. Commander W. A. Zimmerman, nevy inspector assigned to the Goodyear company.

Three Goodyear men were at Lakenurst at the time. They were Karl Lange, in charge of airship operation at Washington, T. A. Knowles and George Lewis, both of Akron.

Dr. Arnstein refused to theorize as to the cause of the crash.

GERMANY PLANS TO SEND PROBERS TO UNITED STATES

attributed the explosions and fire which sent the Hindenburg crashing to earth in a flaming holocaust to the inflammability of the hydrogen carried within its giant hull.

A spokesman for the air ministry said:

"It is a pity the ship was not filed with helium.'

But officials of the Zeppelin company here quickly repudiated allegation that the United States had withheld helium from Germany. The United States holds a monopoly on this product, which is far safer than hydrogen because it is much less inflammable.

These officials stated the United States had offered helium to Germany.

They explained, however, that the Reich had not accepted the offer because this country did not possess sufficient foreign exchange supplies to pay for helium, which is more expensive than hydrogen.

Meanwhile, Friedrichshafen, where the LZ-130 is under construction and where the Hindenburg was built, was plunged into deep mourning. Crowds besieged the Zeppelin works here awaiting word of the fate of their relatives aboard the stricken ship.

Chief Engineer Duerr, who played an important part in construction of the Hindenburg, said:

"We are continuing construction of the new Zeppelin as drafted and I personally do not believe changes in its construction will be necessary.

"The main thing is to get helium instead of hydrogen."

Mary E. Wilson presided over the regular business session at which she welcomed the mothers and other guests. There was delightful music by William McCombs, who sang, "Mother Macree," to able accompaniment by Kathryn Nessle Allen.

Georgianna McNees introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Morisuye, a young Japanese engineer from Sharon. He gave a most interesting and educational lecture on customs, ceremonies and festivities of his native land, illustrating his talk with slides depicting various phases of Japanese life.

He spoke particularly of the temples and shrines in Japan describing them in vivid fashion. As the pictures were shown, he pointed out intricate hand carving on many of the architectural wonders of the Orient, among them a huge bronze Buddha, the casting being unusually big.

He deplored the fact that seemingly, similar hand carving and castings of this size were among the lost arts, as there is little known work of that sort today.

In conclusion, Mr. Morisuye left with his listeners, a homey bit of philosophy, drawing a picture of the difference between Japanese and American methods of greeting—the bow as contrasted to the handclasp—saying that both indicated the same good will underneath the surface on the part of both nationalities, in fact all nationalities, which have different methods of expression.

During the social period, tea was served from a gaily decorated table at which Mary Wilson and Mrs. Charles Metzler, the sponsor, presided. The committee consisted of Flora Ellen Martin, Martha McGill, Marion Campbell, Frances Hayden, Verna Wilfred and Virginia Duff.

On May 27, the Juniors will have a spring party and election, at the home of Mary E. Wilson, Boyles avenue.

WHERE FLOOD CONTROL IS IMPERATIVE

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S instruction to House leaders to drop the omnibus flood control bill for this session should not serve as an excuse for doing nothing whatever about a serious situation.

When every effort must be bent toward economy it would be foolish to authorize or appropriate $800,000,000 now for a mass of unrelated projects, many of which have not been studied and approved by experts.

But there are exceptional cases where an immediate beginning should be made toward removing the regularly recurring menace of destructive floods. This would involve only a modest initial outlay. It is generally admitted that the most pressing emergency exists in the Ohio basin and the upper Pittsburgh watershed, where the uncontrolled headwaters annually, or oftener, inflict heavy damage to commodities not only in Western Pennsylvania, but in several other states. This region was recently visited by the most costly April floods in history.

Plans for dealing adequately with this particular problem have been ready for many years. A start toward putting them into effect can be made the moment the money is available. Control of the most difficult sectional flood situation in this country would mean protection of many lives and of property the value of which defies estimate. But in addition it would afford a practical object lesson in scientific flood prevention for the rest of the country, when the government's finances permit such activities on a broader scale.

ANTIQUES

The motivation of the American passion for antiques is doubtless varied. What is antique is supposed to be beautiful, rare, curious, or at least old. As far as importations are concerned it now appears that 75 per cent of all antiques brought into the United States since 1906 were "fakes."

This is the shattering word that comes from the Treasury Department, which hereafter wants antiques removed from the free list and made dutiable. The value of the "fakes" imported since 1906 is estimated at $500,000,000. The chief producer of "fakes" is England and Mr. Morgenthau thinks that this foreign competition is injuring the domestic manufacturer. Government actuaries have made a cold examination of the population of England, the number of rich families, the square footage of English castles and other mathematical and social minutiae, and have figured out that not a tithe of the imports from the British Isles could be genuine.

But there is this consolation: All of us know our own antiques to be genuine; it is our gullible, uninformed neighbor who has purchased the "fakes."

OPEN SEASONS FOR "QUEENS"

This is the season for queens—queens of flowers and blossom festivals, queens of the May Days at the schools and colleges—queens of fairs and carnivals—all to be crowned with appropriate ceremonies.

The latest queen to come to our attention is the "queen of the potato blossom."

She is to be crowned by the people of the western shore of Virginia on the occasion of a festival to be held at Tasley on the night of June 4th.

Presumably at that time, all the white and rosy blossoms of the potato will be in full bloom.

The queen will have a maid of honor and 15 princesses will make their formal appearance at a dance.

Thus will the humble and lowly potato be placed on the same high pinnacle as the orange and the apple—even vie in magnificence with the queen of the magnolia, the azalea and the laurel, whose chief claim to fame is only their beauty.

For after their blossoms have faded and died there are useful foods to follow such as come after the blooms of the potato have shed their fragrance in the summer air.

NEW HUDDLE IN ROME

Two things are increasingly evident as Germany's Foreign Minister, Von Neurath, continues his conferences with Premier Mussolini in Rome. First, a definite tie-up, although not necessarily a firm military alliance, by the two major Fascist Powers who were World War enemies is actually in the making. Second, the prolonged Spanish struggle is an obstacle to their common advances in other directions, and they are weary of it and the irritation it has caused in neighboring capitals.

Hence these two men, as did Air Minister Goering and Mussolini twice recently, are trying to map a course in Spain, pondering whether to plunge in wholeheartedly to end it quickly, or withdraw their forces when a face-saving opportunity offers. The prospective all-important conference between Mussolini and Hitler must not be handicapped by this tiring extra-national bugbear, it seems.

Already, the conferences have decided that Germany and Italy alike will not interfere in Austria, while Italy is permitted to follow up her treaty with Jugoslavia with advances to Rumania, whose oil has long been coveted by Berlin. Italy's moral influence with Austria and Hungary is expected to intensify a general spirit of solidarity of all European nations of dictatorship trends, as opposed to Great Britain, France and Russia.

Both Italy and Germany, of course, profess themselves still willing to negotiate with Great Britain. But this would require British and French recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia and of Germany's claim to her former colonies. London remains hostile to both requests, meanwhile arming as rapidly as possible—as Germany is doing. Thus while Berlin and Rome are ready to talk comity today, on their own basis, London is waiting until amply bolstered by guns before precipitating a showdown.

Germany and Italy are now pooling interests. They are not natural blood-brothers. As former foes they have much to forget and adjust. Both are ruled by strong individualists; they have many competitive objectives. Yet their mutual hostilities and fears seem to be welding a strange alliance, one which is most important to the rest of the world.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

In this free land you need no title to be treated like a king. Just look like a generous tipper.

Nearly all men are honorable. The trouble is that each defines honor to fit what he wishes to do.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LEARNING NUMBERS

Let alone, the average child before entering school has considerable number experience. He adds and subtracts and may divide. He counts ten or beyond, and knows the meaning of numbers up to ten. In the home where he is encouraged to ask questions and to amuse himself with crayon and pencil, he probably prints the digit symbols as he plays. Some children, unfortunately, are encouraged to add the simple number combinations before going to school. They do so counting, a habit that will be a serious hindrance to them for years, perhaps, after entering school.

Parents who want to help their children gain a good number background before they enter school, should abstain from inducing the child to add, subtract, etc. Instead, they should encourage him to count things and sequence and associate the simple number with their number symbols.

The calendar provides good source material. If there is a typewriter, the young child will delight to write the digit symbols on it. Also he will like to play with these symbols, learning that 7 is more than 4, that 3 is less than 5, and so on; but not how many more or less. With the tendency at school of delaying the teaching of arithmetic to the second grade or late in the first, the child does not need to have much number experience on entering school to get along well.

Count On Fingers

As you know, many children, even in the third, fourth or fifth grade, must count on their fingers or in their imagination when they try to get the sum of 8 and 5 or the difference between 3 and 11. I wish teachers would not practice children in counting things as they begin to add or subtract, but would have them memorize from the outset the basic facts, as 8 and 7 are 15, just as c-a-t spells cat. There are only 100 of these in addition and 100 in subtraction. Until I was almost grown up, I supposed there were about a millon of them, and I counted.

If you have a child who has trouble with simple addition or subtraction, calmly induce him to memorize a few of these number facts at a sitting. You might make a little card of each, say, with 7 under 8, under 8 a line, with 15 at the bottom. Then the child, while looking carefully at it, says over and over to himself, "8 and 7 are 15," until he know it by heart. In order for him to get good results he must not guess or hurry, but must be careful and feel calm and comfortable. Let accuracy and serenity be your guide.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A FAMOUS CHURCH

The Little Church Around the Corner in East Twenty-ninth street, New York, is a point of interest in the big city, which is visited by probably more visitors and tourists than is any spot on Manhattan Island.

That is the church in which more marriages take place than in any other church in the world. It is the particular place where men and women of the stage are married.

Officially the Church of the Transfiguration, it acquired its name as The Little Church Around the Corner, when Joseph Jefferson was placed in charge of the burial arrangements of his friend, the brilliant and beloved actor, George Holland.

At that time in Manhattan, churches considered actors ungodly people. Jefferson endeavored to arrange for church services for his friend at a number of places of worship but was turned down. Completely discouraged, he was at his rooms not knowing which way to turn when another called and said, "there's a little church around the corner says it will take poor George in." To which Jefferson fervently commented, "God bless the little church around the corner."

This is the correct version of this extremely touching story.

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL — My mother and father are divorced, my father having remarried. Athough I have made my home with my mother, I have been very friendly with my father, who will at my approaching marriage, give me away. Should both my father's and my mother's names appear on the invitation and announcements? If only my mother's name should be thereon, what form should be used — Mrs. John Smith or Mrs. Mary Smith?—JANE.

Answer—Your mother's name only should appear on the invitations and announcements, despite the fact that you are very friendly with your father and he will give you away. She should use the title proper for all divorcees—the combination of her maiden surname and her married surname — Mrs. Jones Smith, Jones being her maiden name. Your father's second wife is now Mrs. John Smith.

Dear Miss Markel—Can "junior" be substituted for "second" after a man's name. If not, what is the use of "second."

Answer — "Edward Smith Jr." means son of "Edward Smith Sr." "Second" after the name would indicate a relative, other than a son, younger than Edward Sr. This might be a cousin, a nephew or a grandson. "Junior" and "second" are not interchangeable.

The World At A Glance

How Is Roosevelt Going?
Question Is Asked Often.
Silent Masses Hold Answer.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

NO OTHER question is asked so much as: "How is Roosevelt going now?"

It is a dangerous question to answer. Either side is willing to scalp one.

A year ago, in the heat of the campaign, it was asked many times a day. This writer, early in the campaign, had correspondents throughout the United States to begin a survey. That survey could have been published months prior to the election—and would have been 80 per cent correct. It was published, in attenuated form, two weeks prior to the election. It never had changed. But, in the interim, when this writer was asked by friends to advance a thought on the Roosevelt trend, or the anti-Roosevelt trend, his answer invariably brought a storm from them.

In such a changing period in the world as this, there seems no middle ground, and one who tries to stand aloof and appraise is likely to be speared by both sides.

TODAY

Today, again, with ever-increasing frequency, the question is being asked: "How is Roosevelt going now?"

To answer that, one has to appraise the vast silent mass. The extreme partisans do not actually count. They make an infernal amount of noise, but one may as well brush them aside in the beginning, if accurate calculations are to be made.

Yet, we needs must don our armor prior to replying: "Mr. Roosevelt is going better than ever."

Now wait, wait! We do not lead, we do not create opinion; we merely report.

Among the vast, silent mass Mr. Roosevelt is going better than ever.

If the inflation bubble bursts there may be a different story. But it has not burst yet. And the man who has bought a new house, or a new car, or a new electric refrigerator, or a new radio, or a new plow, or a new truck with his increased income is not likely to turn upon Mr. Roosevelt.

Actually, the more the president is attacked for being "too lenient" to farmers, workers, persons on relief and would-be art students and playwrights, etc., the more he is considered "one of us."

WORLD-WIDE

This feeling in America that the proletariat must come into its own is part of a world-wide feeling. Mr. Roosevelt merely happens to be president, and happens not to be so anti-proletariat as other presidents have been. In that manner, he has saved himself and the nation considerable trouble—if one can judge the temper of the people accurately.

This move of the proletariat to gain power—even as the capitalists overcome the feudalists—is manifested in different manners in different countries. It does not always mean that greater democracy or broader freedom ensues. The communism of the Soviet Union does not at all fit the American proletariat. Nor does the fascism of Italy, nor the Naziism of Germany; nor the emotional democracy of France.

Each nationality conceives its own medium of change. There may be a merger later.

But one thing seems certain—that those who await for a collapse, for a return to, say a pre-war or even a pre-Roosevelt status, probably await in vain. Even should there be the much-heralded inflationary collapse, the movement under way would not end. On the contrary, it probably would move ahead at a more violent pace. At least, such are the indications.

NEXT PRESIDENT?

Rumor has it that the conservative Democrats plan to seize control of the party and, under the leadership of Vice President John Nance Garner, nominate somebody like Jesse Jones, a fellow Texan, for president. Jones has done excellent work as chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. But he is a conservative, a financier, and quite anti-social in his views (as labor sees him).

The Democrats, of course, could commit suicide, cast victory away for a principle. That, however, does not seem logical. It would be wiser for the conservatives to join the Republicans and try to bring about an out-and-out conservative victory through combined forces.

Our guess is — after examining the data before us—that the silent mass of American people will demand a candidate for 1940 who will go further than Roosevelt. And, if the inflationary bubble bursts prior to that time, that is likely to be a certainty.

AT THE CEREMONY

There was a smile upon his face
As he beheld his lovely bride—
A smile of rapture and of pride
That seemed to light the altar space.

I thought: Dear Lord, adown the years
Though joys of now must pass away,
Grant that that smile of love shall stay
Unchanged in spite of cares and tears.

When raven tresses turn to snow
And loss has often followed gain,
If but that radiant smile remain
'Twill matter not what else shall go.

Under pretext of seeking friendly counsel with the commandant of La Ville d'etroit (the Detroit of today), Pontiac entered the fort with 300 picked warriors who had knives, tomahawks and guns under their blankets. Warned by the Redskin maiden of a plot, the commandant postponed the council until next day, eased Pontiac and his followers outside. When the Redskins had retired, gates of the fort were barred against them. Pontiac knew then his conspiracy had been discovered, began a seige of Detroit that lasted for a year.

Their failure to overwhelm Detroit as quickly as they had planned, delayed the Redskin allies' attack all along the frontier, where they far outnumbered the settlers, and gave the English time to make Forts Pitt, Niagara and Ligonier too strong to take.

25 Years Ago Today—An airplane outfitted with a machinegun was tested at College Park, Md., by Capt. C. F. Chandler, U. S. Army. This, the first time a gun had ever been installed in a plane, was a year and four days after the Congress of International Law sanctioned the use of aircraft in war.

The significance of Capt. Chandler's innovation was lost upon military attaches in Washington and their spies, and our own war department, for the belligerents did not have machineguns in their fighting planes until 1915, and it was more than a year after the U. S. entered the war before American planes in France were equipped with guns.

Congress Makes Little Progress

Enters Fifth Month Of Session With Little Accomplished To Date

SUMMER LASSITUDE SETTLES ON CAPITAL

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Congress is in recess until Monday . . . President Roosevelt is fishing in the blue waters of the Gulf of Mexico . . half the cabinet and administration big-wigs have gone to the Kentucky Derby, or are resorting far from the scene of it all . . . the supreme court is recessing preparatory to quitting for the summer.

This was the picture of Washington today as summer lassitude settled over the capital, and the warring, strife-torn, faction-ridden 75th Congress went into its fifth month with a record of accomplishment that is almost nil. This . spite the fact this congress faced from the outset more fights, disputes, and momentous legislation than any other of recent history save possible only the first New Deal congress.

Unless congress applies the spurs to itself, or President Roosevelt reasserts his leadership and applies the whip, the current congress bids fair to establish some sort of a record for "do-nothingness." Its chief products to date have been quarrels, threats, bickering and dissention.

In the four months it has been in session, congress has completed action on only three matters of importance, and they could hardly be called of major importance in comparison with the really momentous work of the session.

Pittsburgh Fire Is $25,000 Loss

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—A wide swath in the industrial district here was in ruin and shambles today, destroyed by a spectacular fire which raged uncontrolled for more than two hours and necessitated four alarms.

Twelve firemen, including Chief Nicholas Phelan, were burned or overcome by smoke while fighting the blaze, one of the most spectacular ever witnessed in the downtown area. Several buildings were destroyed. Property damage alone was estimated at $25,000 with additional plant machinery and stock loss as yet untotalled.

BALDWIN CLASS HAS PROGRAM LAST NIGHT

Baldwin class members had an even more than usually enjoyable evening at Highland church Thursday night, an evening that included a play, a hilarious question bee and debate, and a very delicious spring lunch.

Mrs. M. M. Ingham, the president, turned the program over to Mrs. Harry Miles and Mrs. Albert Batten, at the opening of the evening, and the play, with Mrs. Irvine Balph, Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. Leonard Kisthart, Mrs. A. C. Allen, Miss Effie Butz and Mrs. Ralph Cline in the cast, was presented.

After the question bee and debate the members were invited by Mrs. Lee Allen and her committee to the dining room where the lunch was served at refreshingly spring-like tables. On the efficient committee were Mrs. Walter Dietterle, Mrs. Ralph Cook, Mrs. Ray Cartwright, Mrs. S. F. Bratschie, Mrs. Ralph Cline, Mrs. L. C. Burry and Mrs. F. B. Crisswell.

Lo-Cour-Chee Club

Mrs. Cecil Logan, Mrs. William Gregor and Mrs. Harry Ray, were prize winners Thursday evening, in the bridge game held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Krestel, State St. The players composed members of the Lo-Cour-Chee club, who meets at regular bi-weekly intervals.

Lunch was served by the hostess at a late hour, seasonal appointments predominating.

May 26, the group will be received in the home of Mrs. William Gregor, Galbreath avenue.

REYNOLDS-MILLER WEDDING THURSDAY

At the Free Methodist parsonage on Arlington avenue, Grace M. Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elij Reynolds, of Highland avenue extension, and William L. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Miller, of New Castle, were united in marriage Thursday evening at 6:30 with Rev. Frederick Smith officiating.

Mr. Miller is employed at the P. and O. Electric company of Youngstown, O., and the bride is well-known here as a nurse, being a graduate of the 1934 class at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

The young couple left for a brief honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and upon their return will make their home for a time, with the bride's parents, on Highland avenue extension.

VISITOR ENTERTAINS FOR MRS. WALKER

Mrs. Scott Brenner of Schwenkville, entertained in the home of Mrs. Leon Drum, on Garfield avenue, Wednesday evening, in honor of Mrs. Joseph Walker, a recent bride.

Various games were played during the evening with prizes going to Miss Ethel Hunt and Miss Jane Young, while Mrs. Walker received a beautiful hostess gift. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Brenner, assisted by Mrs. Drum and Mrs. Montgomery.

Guests were seated at tables decorated with tapers and pastel shades.

THIS NEW CASTLE LADY NOW PRAISES VENDOL SAYS IT IS WONDERFUL

"Now My Gassy, Bloated, Acid Stomach And Sluggish-Acting Kidneys Are Relieved, Thinks To This Great Medicine."

MRS. A. L. McKIBBEN of 212 S. Walnut Street

Mrs. A. L. McKibben, whose husband owns and operates a Transfer Business and is well known all over this section, is the latest widely known local resident to come out with her statement publicly praising and recommending Vendol, the amazing new medicine now being introduced to crowds daily by the Vendol Man in the New Castle Drug Co., Mrs. McKibben has hundreds of friends here and we are proud to publish her sincere testimonial about Vendol which follows:

"I can't praise Vendol enough after what it did for me, giving grand relief from misery I had endured for years and I think others who suffer like I did should hear of it. I was in an awful condition with an acid, bloated stomach. After meals I would be in terrible distress with this bloating and belching particles of food. This condition always appeared when I allowed myself to become constipated.

"I also suffered from dizziness, headaches, spots before my eyes and my nerves were so quivery that many nights found me restless and unable to get much sleep.

"I tried first one thing and then another and did everything I knew to do, in my efforts to get relief from this suffering, but it seemed of no use, as nothing helped me. Then recently I began to hear about Vendol and how it was helping people all over this neighborhood so I began taking it, and it seemed to benefit me almost from the start, so I kept on taking it and now I simply cannot praise this great remedy enough. It relieves my constipation, then the bloated, acid stomach condition was relieved. It gave grand relief to my kidneys and I feel better than in a long time.

"I gladly give this recommendation for Vendol and if any of my many friends want to know more about how it helped me, I'll gladly tell them.

All leading druggists everywhere sell Vendol. Come to New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington St., and let the Vendol Man explain fully how it will help you, too. Vendol is also sold at the New Castle Drug Co., 24 N. Mill St.

NOBIL'S 130 EAST WASHINGTON

MRS. STURDEVANT IS HOME FROM CONVENTION

Inspired with many new ideas on the work of the Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. Harry Sturdevant of Morton street, returned Thursday from the national convention held this week in Richmond, Va.

She accompanied down Mrs. C. R. Brenner of Huron avenue, president of Lawrence County Council, who was the official delegate to the convention. After the convention closes Saturday, Mrs. Brenner will remain until next Tuesday in Richmond, visiting her sister, Mrs. William Mease.

Mrs. Paul Allen also attended the sessions, representing Union P. T. A. She will return with Mrs. Brenner Tuesday, visiting in the meantime with friends at Leonardtown, Md., and joining Mrs. Brenner in Washington.

There were over 5,000 delegates at the convention from all parts of the country and even from far away Hawaii.

Several very wonderful speakers were on the program including Mrs. Hamilton Wright, of the U. S. Bureau of Narcotics, who told of the drug, marijuana, which has gained such a hold upon the youth of the nation. The weed was introduced to this country by a Mexican about ten years ago, and is peddled around. Strenuous efforts are being made to round up these men and women.

THE NEWS, BY MAIL. ONE YEAR, $5.00.

Most College Co-Eds Are "Weight Conscious"

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 7.—It's either keep your girlish figure in trim by constant exercise, or send your formals home to have them "let out", believe Westminster college co-eds; and it's easier to do a little exercising.

After a month of college life, the typical freshman girl, following too many parties into the field of sandwiches and hot fudge sundaes at college eat-shops and too many nightly dormitory feeds, finds herself unable to button "that cute sixteen" of her roommate's. This discovery starts her becoming "weight conscious"; and throughout the rest of the school year, she tries to lose that original gain of five or ten pounds.

If Miss Coed is as much as 20 pounds overly plump, she immediately changes her chair in the dining hall to the Fat Chaser's table, where she passes up the starchy foods and pastries for green vegetables or salads. When evening study hours are over, she joins the same group in a dormitory room behind locked door to follow Hollywood "Pointers to Slimness". The oldest and most revered methods of cutting down weight are still used, however, touching the floor with the fingers without bending the knees, known as the "south-west bend" and lying on the floor doing the bicycle kick in mid-air.

On rainy afternoons, some of the health-conscious coeds find their way to the bowling alley to roll a few "strikes" or "spares". This puts all the muscles of the waistline into play, and enables many a coed to take an extra seam in her best tweed skirt.

Campus reducers believe the time to exercise is immediately after meals; and accordingly gather in the dormitory lounges to waltz and swing to blaring radio music. It may be an odd sight to see a group of girls dancing with one another, but it keeps the weight-chart on the downward trend as well as giving a "light as a feather" attitude on the dance floor.

Innumerable are the ways the coed has of keeping in trim. One freshman girl dons a gym suit and circles the dormitory ten times each morning and night. Another climbs the ten flights of steps to the top of the Westminster tower each day for the needed exercise. Long hikes into the College woods provide "slenderization" . . . . provided too much broiled steak is not consumed at the end of the tramp. A dozen or so spring sports, such as bicycling, mushball, tennis, golf, badminton, and swimming, all combine to make it easier for the coed.

Westminster coeds long ago discovered that their "thinner sisters" are the ones who have the standing invitations to the dances; while the better-fed ones seek their knitting on Saturday nights. And so . . . . exercising takes its part in the makeup of "An Average Day in the Life of a Coed".

Film Strike Is Near Showdown

Union Leaders Making Plans To Extend Effect Of Strike To Nation

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, May 7.—The film strike headed toward a showdown today as plans were made by union leaders to boycott every American theatre showing pictures produced by the "Big Ten" studios.

Pledges of support have been received from powerful committee for industrial organization and certain American Federation of Labor unions in the proposed extension of the strike into virtually every city and crossroads settlement in the nation, strike leaders announced. Meanwhile, negotiations between the screen actors' guild, one of the 18 units in the Federated Motion Picture Crafts, and the producers, were completed. The guild has been seeking better pay for extras and "bit" players.

The next move, it was announced, will be for negotiators to transmit the conclusions to their memberships for action. The guild has a mass meeting scheduled for this Sunday.

Count Von Zeppelin Thinks Disaster Result Of Plot

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 7.—Count O. G. Von Zeppelin today expressed the belief that a sabotage plot, probably by communists, caused the tragic explosion which destroyed the German air liner Hindenburg.

Although explaining he could make no definite accusations, the great-grandnephew of Count Ferdinand Zeppelin, famous builder of German airships, declared.

"I cannot express my belief too strongly that a deliberate plot was responsible for the disaster.

"You know there are many people to whose interest it would be to have the Hindenburg destroyed. Germany has many enemies. There are communists, now in control of Russia, who would like to control Germany, too. You know how that is—you find evidence of communistic workings in your country, too."

Count Von Zeppelin said it was "preposterous" that the Hindenburg could have met its fate by accident after making so many successful Atlantic crossings.

"I have been told that it was absolutely fireproof. Only a terrific storm might cause its destruction. Nothing else."

Eye-Witnesses Tell Of Tragedy

Give Vivid Account Of Hindenburg Disaster At Lakehurst Last Night

GHASTLY SIGHT WITNESS SAYS

(International News Service)

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 7.—With the stark realism of men who have looked death in the face, eye-witnesses today gave International News Service a tragic word-picture of the Hindenburg disaster.

They told of seeing flaming bodies hurled to the ground from the windows of the crumbling queen of the skies, reduced "in the fraction of a second", according to one, "to nothing but a blue-white skeleton".

Harry Bruno, American press representative for the operators of the dirigible, was one of those closest to the ship when the explosion occurred.

"I was standing directly under the nose of the zeppelin when there was a terrific explosion," he said. "It was right under the tail flippers.

"It was ghastly. Several passengers were leaning out of cabin windows and I saw two bodies, aflame, hurtled to the ground.

"The flames shot through the ship in a fraction of a second. Mr. Von Meister (William Von Meister, vice-president of the American Zeppelin Transport Company) was standing with me and we both ran as fast as we could to get from under the big hulk that was enveloped in flames and descending upon us. The ship struck with a terrific crash.

"I saw Captain Lehman picking himself up from the ground. He walked toward us. He was badly burned, and kept repeating:

"I don't understand it. I don't understand it."

Several news cameramen were almost directly beneath the airship when it exploded. One of them, Bob Seely, said:

"I was there with my camera, waiting to take pictures, when all of a sudden, 'bang!' and up shot a sheet of flame and then an awful crash. My face tightened by the heat. I ran for about fifteen seconds and then turned to take a picture.

"I saw men and women being taken from the ship. Some could barely walk and their faces streamed blood. Most of the clothes were burned off them. I heard everybody screaming."

Another cameraman, Larry Kennedy:

"There was a noise like bullets coming from the gondola. I didn't see anybody jump. I ran back and then turned around and there, in a fraction of a second, was what was left of the Hindenburg—nothing but blue-white skeleton.

"Bodies were all around, some of their clothes still burning."

May 25, 1928—Italian dirigible Italia crashed in Arctic in flight to North Pole, 8 dead.

September 3, 1925—United States dirigible Shenandoah, formerly ZR-1, wrecked in storm in Ohio, 14 killed.

December 21, 1923—French dirigible Dixmude, presumably struck by lightning over Mediterranean, 52 killed.

February 21, 1922—United States dirigible Rome, bought by United States from Italy, crashed in flames near Hampton Roads army base; 34 killed.

August 24, 1921—Dirigible ZR-2 bought in England for United States, frame buckled over Humber river, 42 killed.

January 29, 1921—British dirigible R-34 wrecked in gale in Howden, England; no lives lost.

July 21, 1919—Dirigible burned over Chicago; 10 killed.

July 15, 1919—British airship NS-11 struck by lightning over North Sea; 12 killed.

June 20, 1914—Airship and airplane collided at Vienna; 9 killed.

September 9, 1913—Zeppelin L-1 destroyed off Heligoland; 15 killed.

October 17, 1913—Zeppelin L-2 exploded over Johannisthal airdrome; 28 killed.

July 2, 1912—Balloon Akron exploded at Atlantic City; 5 killed.

Besides the Zeppelins L-1 and L-2, Count Zeppelin lost four other great peace-time dirigibles in accidents, the Zeppelins 3 and 6 and the Deutschlands 1 and 2.

Twenty Horses Expected To Run In Derby Race

By DEE SPARR
International News Service Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—With ever growing throngs churning the blue grass capital into a fever of holiday excitement, the official entry list this afternoon revealed that twenty horses will run in tomorrow's sixty-third Kentucky Derby.

The scratching of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Case Ace late in the morning left an even score in the field. Withdrawal of the horse left her Milky Way stables with a double entry, Military and Reaping Reward.

Although it was too soon to tell definitely, the scratching of Case Ace was not expected to affect materially betting odds which had made the Mars entry an equal choice with War Admiral at the overnight odds of 5 to 2. Her Reaping Reward was considered the real opposition to the speedy son of Man O' War.

Report Duke Of Kent May Attend Edward's Wedding

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1937.

LONDON, May 7.—Love for his brother may cause the Duke of Kent to defy the royal family and virtually the whole of British public opinion by attending the wedding of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

Court circles buzzed today with the news that George and Marina would dash to France immediately after the coronation to be present at the famous marriage.

If the Kents do this they will be braving the displeasure of Queen Mother Mary, the chruch of England and the British cabinet, who fear attendance of any of the royal family at Mrs. Simpson's wedding will occasion public disapproval at the time British royalty most needs approbation of the people.

Crossings Take Toll In State

Sixty-Two Motorists Killed Last Year In Grade Crossing Crashes

LARGE NUMBER ALSO INJURED

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, May 7—Automobiles contributed 92 per cent. of all the grade crossing accidents in Pennsylvania last year in which there was either death or injury, according to reports made to the Public Utility Commission by its accident section. Automobiles also figured in 371 non-casualty crossing accidents in 1936.

Of the 669 accidents reported, 619 were automobile accidents and 41 pedestrian accidents. The remaining nine crossing accidents included bicycles, motorcycles, wagons, buses, taxicabs and street cars.

Sixty-two persons were killed and 378 injured in these crossing accidents. Of this number 42 of the dead and 349 of the injured, or 88 per cent. of the total casualties, were automobile passengers or drivers.

The reports show 345 automobiles in accidents at unprotected crossings and 274 in accidents at protected crossings. An analysis of the accidents at protected crossings shows the following: protected by gates 29, protected by watchman 47, protected by bells 19, protected by flash light signals 118, protected by other visual signals five, protected by switching crews 56.

In nine accidents automobiles were driven through lowered gates and struck by engine or train and in 11 other accidents they were driven through lowered gates and crashed into the side of engine or train.

There were 158 accidents in which automobiles were driven into the side of an engine or train moving over a crossing and in 35 the automobiles were driven into the side of an engine or train standing on a crossing. In 85 accidents automobiles stalled on crossings and were struck by trains.

Reports were received of 501 crossing gates being crashed into or through and no casualties resulting. These accidents involved automobiles and trucks, four street cars and three bicycles. Twenty-seven automobiles also struck, damaged or destroyed flash light signals at crossings.

Woman Suggests Early Marriages For Young Girls

"Love, Marriage And Babies" Only Sure Ways To Genuine Happiness

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 7.—The best formula for a woman's happiness today is "love, marriage and babies" in the opinion of Mrs. Carl Raymond Gray, "American mother of 1937," of Omaha, Neb.

America's No. 1 mother said young people today are spoiled and lack courage.

"Too many modern girls and boys are over-educated," she observed. "They consider luxuries a necessity. They want to start out with things their parents struggled for all their lives."

Her advice to young girls:

"Marry young—if you're sure you're dreadfully in love. Mere affection won't do. If you're not prepared to make sacrifices, better not get married."

Mrs. Gray, a great-grandmother, will be presented a medal Sunday in connection with the National Mother's Day observance.

Shumway, who already has conducted addresses and personal interviews for two days on the campus, will return at the opening of college next fall to work with the freshmen. Addresses relative to the technique of job hunting will be included in the two-day program of Shumway's visit.

Wild Ducks Cause Tieup In Traffic

Some 40 Waddle Across Roadway In Front Of Autos At Grove City

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, May 7.—Wild ducks, nurtured by the local Sportsmen's club in Memorial park, caused a traffic tie-up recently when a number of automobiles were halted while the entire duck population totaling some 40-odd two-year-old brids, waddled calmly across one of the drives in single file. Sportsmen at the scene held up traffic until all the ducks were safely across.

The park is constantly patrolled by sportsmen, who have succeeded in raising maintaining the ducks for the past two years. This year, many nests are scattered through the 200-acre park, and before Memorial Day a new crop of ducklings will be hatched. The mortality rate is low, due to the vigilance of the sportsmen, ,,who protect the nest and young birds from disturbance. Last year thousands of people viewed the ducks, who are completely at home on the numerous ponds.

When you meet a good insurance man, the line of least resistance is the dotted line.

Advice to a young man who asks how to handle an old-fashioned girl. Don't.

Woman, 102, Says 'Reds' Outlive All

DENVER, May 7.—Science may not agree, but Mrs. Sarah Wormer, 102, is convinced that red-haired persons live the longest.

"I have red hair and five of my children were red-haired," she says. "The five redheads still are alive but my five other children, who were dark haired, died young or in middle age."

Her husband, dark-haired, died 28 years ago. Her eldest son, T. A. Wormer of Denver, is 82, and her youngest, Charles G. Wormer, of Spokane, Wash., is 60.

Mrs. Wormer, whose red hair now is streaked with gray, weighs but 60 pounds and is four feet tall. She is in good health but hard of hearing.

"I have seen many changes in the mechanical and scientific world during my life time," she said. "All have made life faster and lessened work. But despite the new ways of amusing one's self, I still cling to solitaire, the same recreation I enjoyed 75 years ago while waiting for my husband to return from the Civil war."

Much Drilling For Oil And Gas In Pennsylvania

Over Two Thousand Wells Sunk Within Borders Of State Last Year

STATE RANKS SEVENTH TODAY

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Available reports show that 2,312 wells were drilled in the oil and gas fields of Pennsylvania in 1936, Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas A. Logue stated today.

The total included 1,699 oil wells, 131 gas wells, 395 water intake wells and 87 dry holes. In 1934, the latest year for which accurate statistics are available, about 82,500 oil wells and 16,400 gas wells were producing in Pennsylvania. In 1936 the total number of producing wells in the United States is given as 343,477. It is estimated that more than 200,000 oil and gas wells have been drilled in Pennsylvania since 1859.

From the standpoint of total number of wells drilled, wells drilled annually and number of wells producing, Pennsylvania ranks high among the states. Until 1895 Pennsylvania led the states in volume of oil produced. Today it ranks seventh. In 1936 the United States produced 1,089,114,000 barrels of oil of which Pennsylvania produced about 18,000,000 barrels.

Drilling being done in Pennsylvania today, Secretary Logue pointed out, falls into two general categories: wells drilled to further production of oil or gas in the "shallow sands" and wells drilled to explore or produce gas from the "deep" sands. The "shallow sand" wells range in depth from something like 300 to 3,000 feet and may average about 1,200 feet. A considerable number of "shallow sand" wells in the Bradford or Venango regions are drilled as water or gas intake wells incident to the practice of secondary recovery methods. Most of the "deep sand" wells have been drilled in Tioga and Potter Counties in the past six years. They are 4,000 to 6,000 feet deep and average somewhat less than 5,000 feet deep. Scattered "deep" sand wells occur also throughout the shallow fields area of western Pennsylvania but their number is not large, he said.

Check Issued By U. S. In Amount Of One Cent

Government Issues Check For Cent And Demands It Be Cashed Immediately

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 7.—The United States treasury may handle billions of dollars, but also it can worry about a penny.

Proof of that fact was received here by David M. Lloyd, 80-year-old retired fire captain, who received a letter from the treasury department which asked him to cash a one-cent federal check so that the department's accounts might be cleared up.

Lloyd received the check after dealing with the Home Owners' Loan corporation. A mistake was discovered in the transaction, so the government sent Lloyd a check for $10-1000—which looks big in print but is only a penny.

Wanted Check As Souvenir.

The retired fire captain intended to save the check as a souvenir, but mislaid it some place in his room and forgot all about it. His attention was attracted to it again by a government letter asking him to cash it. When he reported the check lost, the government sent a few letters back and forth and then sent Lloyd another check for one cent, with a request that he cash it.

In view of the fuss made about the tiny amount, Lloyd decided to follow through in a big way, so he went to the First National bank here and sought out Vice-President Stephenson to have the check cashed. Lloyd was not bothered by a request for proof of his identification, so the check was cashed and forwarded to the treasury department in record time.

Scouts Will Issue 'Jamboree Journal'

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7—Many Boy Scouts aspiring to be newspaper reporters, editors, cartoonists or news photographers in the future will have real experiences this summer when they publish a daily morning newspaper the "Jamboree Journal" for their National Jamboree here from June 30 to July 9.

Plans have been announced for the publication of a 16-page illustrated tabloid newspaper with a circulation estimated at 50,000 copies. It will be edited and illustrated by Boy Scouts and their leaders who are members of Boy Scout Press clubs and printed on the presses of one of the daily Washington newspapers. All have had some experience in journalism either through the publication of scout newspapers or working for scholastic publications or community newspapers.

Suspend Sentences For Man And Wife

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Baker of Pana, Ill., were given suspended sentences of a year and a day in the penitentiary here Thursday when they pleaded guilty to promoting the famed "Baker estates" racket, which the government contends was used to mulct thousands of gullible persons of huge sums of money.

Baker, 65, and his wife, 70, were placed on probation for five years by Federal Judge Nelson McVicar.

1 cup Spry	1 teaspoon salt
1 cup molasses	1 teaspoon soda
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed	2 teaspoons ginger
1 egg, well beaten	1 teaspoon cinnamon
4 cups sifted flour	½ teaspoon nutmeg
	½ teaspoon cloves

Combine Spry, molasses and brown sugar in saucepan. Bring to a boil over low fire and boil 2 minutes. Remove from fire and cool to lukewarm. Add beaten egg and mix thoroughly. Sift together flour, salt, soda and spices. Add to molasses mixture and blend well. (No bother to mix, and inexpensive as can be!) RIDES HIPPO TO SAFETY

Savagely attacked by a hippopotamus while in his canoe near Maun, South Africa, Kapalengo, a native, escaped death by a terrifying accident. When the hippo rose before him Kapalengo speared it. The infuriated animal hit the front of the canoe with its legs and the native was catapulted to the hippo's back. Fighting for his life, Kapalengo was cut on hands and legs by the beasts teeth. He threw himself into the water and swam clear. Next day the hippo was found dead, its jugular vein having been severtd by the spear.

More Roses Is Aim Of French

Nurserymen Are Being Advised To Investigate Profit From Rose Sales

MOST WIDELY GROWN FLOWER

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Pointing out that Pennsylvania annually buys millions of rose bushes from other states, J. Hansell French, secretary of Agriculture, today suggested that more Keystone State farmers and nurserymen investigate the possibilities for profit in rose culture on a commercial scale.

Home owners were urged to avail themselves mote thoroughly of the cultural and ornamental qualities of the rose.

Secretary French's appeal was supplemented by the following statement from Dr. E. M. Gress, State botanist:

"Throughout all history the rose has been the outstanding flower. Perhaps more attention has been given to its improvement and cultivation than has been given to any other plant.

"Pennsylvania should give it more consideration not only from a financial point of view but from the ornamental as well. As is true also with its exquisite natural beauty, Pennsylvania has failed to advertise and sing the praises of its natural fitness to cultivate this plant. Very few citizens of the state realize the possibilities of the cultural value of our native wild roses.

"There are in the state about eight species of wild roses. All of these are more or less free from the pests which attack many of our cultivated varieties. The different species are capable of being grown under different conditions in our garden and lawn."

Graf Zeppelin Heading Home

Giant Airship Has Crossed South Atlantic And Heads For Germany Today

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 7.—While its giant new sister-ship, the wrecked Hindenburg, lay charred and ruined at Lakehurst, the aged Graf Zeppelin was speeding toward Germany in safety today after a voyage across the South Atlantic.

In a radio message to officials at Friedrichshafen, the Graf Zeppelin reported "all well."

The Graf Zeppelin, which in 1928 completed a round-the-world flight, for years has plied with ferry-like precision between Germany and South America.

"Lost Zeppelins" Salute Was Final Hindenburg Message

(International News Service)

HAMBURG, Germany, May 7.—The last radio message sent to Germany by the ill-fated dirigible Hindenburg was a salute to "lost zeppelins!"

Officials here revealed today this final message was sent by the airship as it approached Lakehurst, N. J., at 9:50 p. m. German time, (3:50 p. m. E.D.T.) yesterday.

It was addressed to the Hamburg Naval league, which was unveiling a memorial to zeppelins lost in the World war.

Evidently the C. I. O. will soon be powerful enough to control everything but its own members.

YELLOW AND BLACK ROAD SIGNS PLANNED

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Combined yellow and black warning and highway direction signs soon will be found on the principal highways throughout the commonwealth. The prison labor division of the Department of Welfare, is now manufacturing 200,000 of these markers in the Western State penitentiary at Pittsburgh.

The colors, familiar as markers for radio towers, airplane hangars and obstructions near airports, have been adopted as federal standard after long research to find the combination visible at the greatest distance. Pennsylvania has also adopted the colors as standard for highway markers.

Reflector signs, placed at dangerous points, also will be painted yellow and black.

Optician Douts Pair Of Bandits

(International News Service)

MONESSEN, Pa., May 7.—When two holdup men entered the office of Lawrence Lee, an optician, Thursday and informed him to turn over his money, they picked on the wrong man.

Lee grappled with the men, one of whom carried a gun. They smashed his glasses, cut his eye slightly, and then escaped in a large black automobile—sans Lee's money.

McAdoo Suggests Fifteen Justices

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 7.— The membership of the supreme court would be increased to fifteen justices and its size fixed at that number for the next 25 years, under a constitutional amendment proposed in the senate Thursday by Senator William Gibbs McAdoo (D) California.

It was the "mystery" amendment that had puzzled the senate judiciary committee over the past weekend.

At the end of 25 years, McAdoo proposed that congress should then fix the size of the court for the next quarter century. This would happen every 25 years, with changes prohibited during the interims.

Margiotti Has Ignored Charge By Defendants

District Attorney James A. Reilly Of Fayette County To Go On Trial Monday

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Amid a barrage of last minute attacks and counter rebuttals, the commonwealth today rushed to completion its plans for the trial of Fayette County District Attorney James A. Reilly, third of the defendants to face a jury in connection with Uniontown's celebrated "torture" case.

The trial is scheduled to open Monday in the Allegheny county courts, transferred there by a change of venue from Somerset county.

Margiotti Ignores Charges

Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, special prosecutor, although rebuking the defendants for attacking him on the eve of the trial, disdained to make reply to their charge he was using the trial to "further his political ambitions.

Said Margiotti:

"Mr. Reilly's trial next week is of the greatest importance to him and to all the citizens of this commonwealth. District Attorney Andrew T. Park and I are most anxious that the commonwealth and all the defendants have a fair and impartial trial. Such a trial can be had by refraining from making statements through the press just before trial.

"I do not propose to say anything at this time that may have any bearing on the case. Our evidence will be presented to an Allegheny county court and jury for their solemn consideration."

Previously Reilly and former State Trooper Anthony Sanute, who was tried and acquitted by a directed verdict, had flouted the attorney's general's actions in statements. Major Lynn G. Adams was also pulled into the controversy.

Says Court Trial Outcome Was Victory For Him In Murder Charge

(International News Service)

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., May 7.—Back home in the town where he was born, Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt today said he viewed as "a great victory" and "vindication" the failure of a jury at New Castle to reach a verdict in his trial on a charge of murdering Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor, his socialite fiancee.

Gen. Denhardt made the trip from New Castle accompanied by his sister, Bertha Denhardt, who stayed with him on his farm in Oldham county until Mrs. Taylor's death.

At liberty under $25,000 bond, the bald, portly general said he was not going to worry about the next trial, which has been set on the regular circuit court docket for September.

Volant Pageant Is Huge Success

Capacity Crowd Attends Event Held In Volant M. E. Church, Thursday

Filling the Volant M. E. church, Thursday night, a greatly pleased crowd applauded a cast of nearly 110 Volant school students who presented the annual spring pageant. The event was colorful and proved one of the most successful occasions in years.

The crowd enjoyed the program presented by the talented students. Student teachers of Westminster college music department, under the supervision of Miss Peabody, who are working in conjunction with Volant school teachers, deserve considerable credit for the outcome of the pageant.

Mayor Takes Children To Circus Today

Mayor Charles McGrath knew it was circus day today in New Castle and he knew that many children would only know that the great Hagenbeck-Wallace circus was in town. So, bright and early this morning he was down to the circus grounds and the idea came to him that he could make it a big day for a group of children who never see the circus unless some man or woman in the community took them as their guests.

And that is just what Mayor McGrath is doing this afternoon. Children from the Crawford Oakridge and the Margaret Henry Home will be his guests at the afternoon show of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus with seats in the grand stand, right in front of the three rings and two stages. There will be peanuts and popcorn and ice cream too. There will be many glad little souls in New Castle tonight through the generosity of the mayor.

Reopen Probe In Taylor Case

Fifteen-Year-old Unsolved Murder Case Is Again Being Investigated

FORMER SCREEN STAR TESTIFIES

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 7—Search for a murder gun...hints of a missing diary....a dramatical denial of murder....questioning of noted theatrical figures....a proclamation of fervent love.....

As replete with drama as any silent picture "thriller" he directed, these were the highlights today of the reopened investigation into the 15-year old unsolved murder of William Desmond Taylor.

Following testimony by Mrs. Charlotte Shelby and her two daughters, Mary Miles Minter, former screen star-financee of the slain director, and Mrs. Margaret Fillmore, district attorney's investigators today promised a "complete recapitulations" of the case.

The case was reopened after Mrs. Fillmore asserted in a deposition in a civil suit that she had "shielded my mother from the Taylor matter."

Diaries Seized

Investigators seized two diaries of Miss Minters' and subpoenaed all three women.

Miss Fillmore was the first witness to go before the grand jury. Her testimony was held in strict confidence, but immediately after she left the room investigators announced they would reopen the search for the murder gun which was never found in previous studies of the case.

They said they were looking for a gun at one time owned by Mrs. Shelby. The elderly woman, however, told jurors later that he had had the gun, now missing, in her possession when Taylor was killed.

Reveals Love

Revealing a love as true as any she ever portrayed as a golden-haired screen heroine many years ago, Miss Minter was the second witness called.

She told the jurors that Taylor was her fiance at the time of his death, that he never married because of her love for him, and pledged her aid in any moves to solve the mystery.

After the study of her diaries, District Attorney Buron Fitts announced they contained merely the "day by day details of a private life and are of no help in the case."

Mrs. Shelby, the third witness, admitted she had been asked directly by the jurors:

"Did you kill William Desmond Taylor?"

"I had to answer 'no' to that question," she said. "Then they asked me if I had any idea who did, and I had to answer 'no' to that too."

DAUGHTER OF LEO TOLSTOY TO SELL FARM AND WRITE

(International News Service)

HADDAM, Conn.—Connecticut's royal tiller of the soil; Countess Alexandra Lvovna Tolstoy, daughter of Leo Tolstoy, Russian novelist, is pulling up stakes.

The Countess—a "Connecticut Yankee" since 1933—is putting her 20-acre chicken farm on the market and will soon sail for Japan where she will polish off her tome on that country which she will bring out for the Yale University Press.

Countess Tolstoy came to America and Connecticut by way of Japan after the Tolstoy estates had been seized by Communists.

Parade Cancelled; School Children Get No Holiday

"Many the heart that is breaking" was the line in that old classic of the gay nineties "After the Ball." And the line applied to the school kids today.

The circus didn't parade.

And the schools didn't dismiss.

All of which caused a lot of unhappiness among them.

Earl Friday the management of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus called Dr. C. C. Green and said the parade had been cancelled. Dr. Green immediately notified the school principals that the dismissal was off too.

It was necessary to dismuss the high school building long enough to permit the students to go home and get their lunches. Arrangements had been made to dimiss at 10:45 for the parade and the cafeterias were closed for the day. It was necessary to take time out sufficiently long to permit the students to get something to eat.

AVIATION CHAOS SEEN

Chaos in Australian aviation is forecast by J. A. Lyons, Federal Prime Minister, as a result of the referendum on proposals to increase the power of the Commonwealth Parliament by amending the constitution. Both proposals would have increased parliamentary power to make laws governing air navigation and aircraft. Their defeat means that the Commonwealth Parliament must retire completely from control of civil aviation and leave regulation to the states, according to the prime minister's interpretation.

"SUFFERED SIX YEARS WITH CONSTIPATION"

"For six years I suffered with constipation, and I decided to try ALL-BRAN. I have been eating it once a day for about four years, and it has certainly done the work." —Mrs. Herman Futrell, 905 W. Oak Ave., Jonesboro, Ark.

Tests prove that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is safe and effective for correcting common constipation.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently exercises and cleanses the intestines. It also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. Three times daily in severe cases. You'll find this food far better than habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Legislature To Hear Governor

Earle To Go Before Session Monday Night On "Mandate" Program

MANY MEASURES ARE STILL PENDING

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Gov. George H. Earle today planned to go personally before the 132nd legislature Monday night and remind the Democratic majority of its campaign pledges.

According to present plans it will be no fire-side chat but rather a "straight-from-the-shoulder" demand that the remainder of the "mandate" program be enacted.

It marks the first time that the chief executive has been forced into such a position by his own party as blocs within the Democratic majority have moved to obstruct much of his "must" legislation.

Force Council Of War

Heretofore, differences have been ironed out, "revolts" have been crushed and, either by pressure or cajoling, the Democrats have been kept in the traces. But this week, the 17th, a series of behind-the-scenes developments have forced the Democratic high-command into a council of war.

Many measures included in the remainder of the governor's program have been either junked or emasculated beyond the point of effectiveness on the floor of the house and senate and in committees.

Hopes for sine die adjournment by May 21 have dimmed with indications that the next deadline will be set for the following week, on May 28.

Unless week-end conferences prove this step will be unnecessary, the governor will address the legislature Monday night, and, possibly, the rest of the state through a radio hook-up.

He is expected to take up the remainder of his program which has either been sidetracked, drastically amended, or placed on the "postponed calendar" and, at the same time, he will probably reiterate demands made in his opening legislative and budget messages and in the Democratic platform.

School Day Play At Union High Is Successful

Side-Acts Taking Place Of Acting Orchestra Add Greatly To Program

An attendance of over 400 viewed the opening night's performance of "Remember the Day," the junior-senior play presented at Union high school Thursday evening. The play, which is a three-act life-like tale of school life, will be repeated this evening in order that the many unable to attend on the first night will have an opportunity to view the efforts of these students.

Not a dull moment was experienced as the cast of 25 students went over their lines, weaving and unravelling a complicated plot of affairs. This is what happens: Dewey Roberts' school teacher, who comes from a seacoast town, is the only one who takes seriously his passion for ships. Dewey has the normal child's contempt for boys who give the school teacher anything but trouble. When she speaks a word of understanding about ships, however, his guard drops and he idealizes her.

But she is in love with the school athletic coach, who is also one of Dewey's heroes. When Dewey discovers that his teacher's real life moves on a plane so far above his reach, he is greviously wounded. He feels cut off from everything.

At the close of the play Dewey turns out to be a ship-builder of great renown. It is at this time that he again meets his old teacher, who makes a visit to Washington to see him. Old acquaintances are revived and remembrances of past events brings the play to an inspiring end.

In addition to the play, many side-acts by the classes and students of the school added entertainment to the affair, taking the place of the acting orchestra, the members of which nearly all held parts in the show.

Credit for the success of the affair was given to the following: Milton A. Pattison, Ruth Horton, Fern Cloak, Elma Robinson, Joseph Thompson, R. F Conway, Huron Smyth, Robert A. Duff and the entire cast of students.

Those included in the cast are the following in the order of their appearance: 1st bell boy, Robert Zedaker; Nora Trinell, Ruth Raney; flower girl, Frances Carbone; 2nd bell boy, Russell Bowers; reporter, Lew Melnyk; Dewey Robert, Marsh Miller; Kate Hill, Geraldine Covert; Tom, Robert McKinney.

Tells How To Plant Shrubs

Acid Soil Is Needed For Laurel And Rhododendron, Winters States

REVEAL METHODS TO GET RESULTS

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Deputy Secretary W. J. B. Winters, of the Department of Forests and Waters, today advised that rhododendron and laurel, when transplanted, should be placed in an acid soil as they will not thrive in neutral or alkaline ground. He said there are several methods of securing soil acidity.

Crude aluminum sulphate may be mixed with the top soil to as much as one-half pound of the chemical per square yard of ground surface, the state official pointed out. Aluminum sulphate comes in the form of salt and may be purchased from seed and garden supply stores. Caution is advised when handling this chemical so as not to mix planting of rhododendron and laurel with other trees and shrubs that may be unsuited to strongly acid soils. The special soil treatment favorable to rhododendron and laurel may make it advisable to grow them apart from other ornamentals. Among other acid soil plants are Trailing Arbutus, Heather, and Huckleberry.

Better than adding artificial chemical is the replacement of some of the soil with natural upland peat. This is the accumulation of partially decayed leaves, twigs, and on well drained soils, sand and gravel, and should not be confused with common peat that forms in stagnant bogs. Upland peat is not found upon limestone soils, or those of alkaline reaction.

More moisture for acid-demanding evergreens is provided by removing the top soil to a depth of several inches and filling in with well-decayed sawdust. Fresh sawdust should not be used since it may contain substances that are directly injurious. A mulch of oak leaves applied every year is required to attain acidity after the trees are properly planted and satisfactorily established. No manure, lime, or wood ashes should be applied to evergreens that require acid soil, for these substances neutralize the necessary acidity.

INFANT MORTALITY IS LOW IN CONNECTICUT

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn.—Connecticut has the lowest infant mortality rate of any of the New England states, according to state health commissioner Dr. Stanley H. Osborn.

The Nutmeg state's rate per 1,000 living births in 1935, the last year for which statistics are available, indicates there were 43.9 deaths. The national rate was much higher, at 55.7.

During the past 15 years, Connecticut mothers have been heartened by the steady decline in infant deaths, from 3144 in 1920 to 944 in 1935.

Says Middle Ages Were An Age Of Tall Stories

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 7—The Middle Ages were an age of tall stories, Dr. May Purdy, English department head, told Westminster college students last night in the third of a series of lectures on the Medieval period, "when tales were told of how shipwrecked sailors built fires on the backs of whales, and monsters clothing themselves in the beards of kings they had killed."

Dr. Purdy discussed stories of "male Cinderellas" stories of poor youth who arose to fame and fortune; and of the state of idealized women, "put on a pedestal" by Medieval writers, except in the "fabliaux" of the period, who represented women as having bad characters, bad tempers, and brawn instead of brains.

"Books of etiquette of the time," Dr. Purdy added: "give suggestions for gossiping women....small windows in parlors, which were to be kept away from; no pets, except a cat; and short speeches from women."

In a second talk of the evening, Miss Virginia Everett, department of English, spoke on the literature of the later Medieval period.

"An increased nationalism, such as seen in Germany and Italy; interest in foreign travel; and the urge to go to college," Miss Everett said, "make this period, also, very much like our modern one. The first maximum-hour law was passed in this period, when workmen were not allowed to labor after "candle-light time"....or darkness."

Miss Everett spoke of the medical books of the period giving what sounds like modern advice to medical students of the period; overcharge the rich and undercharge the poor, and learn to develop a good "bedside manner." The period also devoleped its "ghost-writers" men who wrote sermons for illiterate ministers.

Friday night concludes the Medieval studies with a lecture on the "Medieval Cathedral" by Dr. Clarence Ward, Oberlin college, in the Little Church Theatre, 8 o'clock. A display of original illustrated manuscripts, some a thousand years old, from the Otto Egge, collection, Cleveland, are on display in the Commuter's room.

Sees Mankind Extinct In About 5,000 Years

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Extinction of mankind within a few thousand years was predicted today by Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel Prize winner and discoverer of "heavy water."

Within 5,000 years, declared Urey in an address at the dedication of the Mellon Institute, man will have exhausted the natural resources of the earth and entered into a stone age.

The solemn prophesy, delivered by the famous physicist, startled the throng of scientists and industrialists present for the ceremonies.

The Columbia University scientist declared:

"I think this age may be referred to 5,000 years from now as the age of dissipation. It will be the age during which man complet ly scattered in fine dust over the face of the earth and the oceans all the natural resources of the earth's crust.

"Man will be back in the Stone Age, and on the way to extinction at that time."

The only hope for continued existence of man beyond that period, prophesied Urey, will be in the energy of the sun.

"Man then must live on his income, consisting of energy arriving from the sun," said Urey. "This source may last a billion years yet. But how make use of it? Perhaps the physicist and his technical children may solve this problem by sun engines."

Food, said Urey, might be supplied by plants that would be especially developed to thrive on sunlight.

"Our supply of metals appears more discouraging," added Urey. "Will our descendants grudgingly mine our waste dumps for those previous metals, iron, aluminum, tin, lead and others?"

THE AGE ALL WOMEN FEAR

"No Need To Worry About Approaching Middle Age," Says Hearty Swedish Lady

"When I was a younger woman," says Mrs. M. Zubus of 614 Melrose Ave., Ambridge, Pa., "I used to dread the coming of middle age. So many of my friends seemed to suffer so, at that time, that I supposed it was necessary for a woman to go through a time of pain and distress when she reached a certain age. I am fifty years old now, and I have learned that there is no need to have these old fashioned fears.

"But a woman must take good care of her health during her younger years. Catarrh and constipation are the great foes of a woman's health at all times. When I was about forty I began to suffer badly with this trouble. I had to take physics every night, in order to get my bowels to move. I lost appetite and I began to lose weight. Presently, I got so weak that I could hardly do my housework. I realized that there were accumulated impurities in my blood, and that my system needed a thorough cleansing. I tried a number of so-called remedies for this purpose; but they were all ordinary American preparations and I am of Swedish descent. Naturally these remedies did me no good.

"Then I heard from a good Italian neighbor about World's Tonic. This splendid medicine is made from roots and herbs gathered in different parts of the world, each in its own proper season. Therefore, World's Tonic can bring beneficial results to Europeans, like myself, as well as Americans, in a way not to be expected with ordinary American preparations. As soon as I began taking World's Tonic I felt the good effects of the different herbs from which it is made. My system felt cleansed and refreshed, almost immediately. At the end of about two weeks I was entirely well of the catarrh and constipation. I never had any more trouble at all, until seven or eight years later. At this time the regular functions of my system were upset, and impurities were again accumulating in my system. This time I knew exactly what to do. I began taking World's Tonic at once. I did not have a bit of trouble throughout the period which followed. I passed through the years which every woman dreads in perfect health, and without a twinge of pain at any time.

I wish every woman could know as I know, what a blessed help World's Tonic is, at every period of life—particularly when the oncoming of constitutional changes is placing a special strain on her system." World's Tonic is on sale at Eckerd's, Paisley's and other modern drug stores. (B-101.)

Pymatuning Lake continues its refusal to give up the body of Mrs. Lyle Redfoot, young Fredonia wife who sank Sunday afternoon then the canoe which she occupied with her husband and two friends was overturned by waves. Nine boats have been used in the search and the distraught husband has even attempted diving down where his bride of three months disappeared.

Squire Riddle of near Clintonville thinks fox hunters might get results by taking along a washtub. Out in the Riddle yard the other day there stood, upside down, a tub propped up slightly by a stone. The squire was attracted to the yard by dogs chasing two animals. One of the animals darted beneath the tub and in doing so jarred it off the stone and was trapped. Mr. Riddle found that the captured animal was a fox.

They are expecting a lot of fishermen on Pymatuning Lake after July 1. The Linesville Herald says that: "with the fish crowding the spillway at Linesville it would appear that the large area just south of Linesville will be the big fishing territory...The nature of the shores which are more or less thickly wooded and the rather wild and quiet condition will bring many out in boats fishing in the old fashioned way." Incidentally, it is reported that the placing of a contract for the construction of 70 rowboats by the state for use on the lake is to be only a part of the order and that probably 230 more are to be bought.

False Teeth Ruled Out In Army Flights

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Little did the Wright brothers know what discomforts their flying machine ultimately would bring to army fliers.

Now comes the army flight surgeons with an order that all army aviators wearing false teeth shall dispense with them before taking flights. The surgeons figure the army's air didoes have a tendency to cause false teeth to jump from pilot's mouths.

The trouble is the teeth don't always jump out. When they drop down the aviator's throat he is likely to choke to death.

Labor Disputes Nearing Crisis

Cminous Strike Threats Becloud Steel And Coal Labor Situation

S. W. O. C. ASKS FOR WEST VA. PROTECTION

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—With ominous strike threats beclouding the situation, the steel and coal labor disputes rapidly neared a crisis today.

Throughout the Pittsburgh district, mine towns quietly awaited the effects of SWOC chairman Philip Murray's threat that the large independent steel operators, including Weirton, which failed to make an agreement with the United Mine Workers face a crisis in their mines "within 48 hours."

Appeal For Protection

The SWOC also wired an appeal to Governor Homer A. Holt of West Virginia, asking protection for its CIO organizers against "thugs" it asserted were backed by former supporters of the now dead "company unions."

The governor specifically was asked for protection of a mass meeting to be held Sunday near Weirton, where SWOC officials charge 30 employes wearing CIO union buttons were clubbed from the Weirton Steel Mills by an opposing faction Wednesday night. A copy of the wire was sent to United States Senator Robert LaFollette's civil liberties committee in Washington.

While the independent operators gave no sign of weakening and refused to issue statements, Murray followed up his threats with an ultimatum that "a big steel strike with all its turmoil and sacrifices is on the way unless major independent steel producers change their attitude in labor relations."

"While the committee for industrial organization does not want a strike, prefers peace and will respect the law," Murray said, "I tell you that a strike will inevitably trail in the wake of this maddening policy on the part of the independent steel producers."

Murray is also international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Some of the larger independents who have refused CIO contracts include Weirton, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Republic Steel of Cleveland.

May Pageant On Saturday At Grove City

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, May 7.—Plans for the combined Parents' Day and May pageant, to be presented on the Grove City College campus Saturday, May 15, were enhanced this week when acceptances were received from several former May Queens, who will appear in the processional when Miss Eleanor Ketler, daughter of President and Mrs. Weir C. Ketler, will be crowned at the 1937 event.

Acceptances have been received from Mrs. Howard Heckathorne, Beaver Falls, who was May Queen in 1916, and who now has a daughter in the freshman class; Miss Helen Holstein, Grove City, 1928; Mrs. Mildred Leib McCarl, Grove City, 1930; and Miss Helena Stevenson, New Castle, 1927. Other former queens are expected to return for the day.

The Parents' Day feature was inaugurated on the campus last spring, and was so successful that it is to be repeated May 15th, with a more elaborate program arranged.

Warns Farmers On Racketeers

Several Swindle Games Are Being Worked On Pennsylvania Farmers

HARRISBURG, May 7.—J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture, today warned the farmers and postmasters of the state of the operations of two groups of racketeers who have been preying upon farmers and postoffices.

One of these frauds is the buying of hay, potatoes and other produce from farmers with the promise to pay after resale. After the produce is resold the original buyers disappear. Five of these operators have been arrested after swindling Central Pennsylvania farmers out of products valued at $5,000.

Postmasters are cautioned to keep on the alert for shipments of baby chicks from a concern which has devised a clever scheme to make salesmen out of all postmasters. Following receipt of cartons of baby chicks consigned to fictitious addresses, the postmaster receives notice from the shipper that he is to dispose of them at a price less than their declared value and refund the proceeds to the shipper.

Secretary French warns the farmers against dealing with fly-by-night persons and concerns except for cash.

Hearing Today On Aluminum Suit

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—A hearing slated for federal court today will probably decide the success or failure of the Aluminum Company of America's efforts to block the anti-trust suit filed against it in the federal court of Southern New York by the government.

Assistant Atorney General Robert H. Jackson and Special Assistant Walter L. Rice were to appear before Federal Judge R. M. Gibson in an attempt to have him vacate the temporary order enjoining Attorney General Homer S. Cummings and other government officials from proceeding with the case in the New York court.

The order was granted last week when the Aluminum company, self-termed "the most investigated company in America," questioned the action in the New York court, claiming a similar government suit in 1912 had settled the issue once and for all.

Here's the DRUM-MAJOR of the motor car parade

If you know a leader when you meet one, you'll see the moment you try this sparkling Buick why it's called the out-in-front car of the year.

You'll go for the way it goes for you—serene, steady, gallant as the figurehead on a buoyant ship—you're in for a thrill every time you put it into action.

You handle a wheel that turns as easy as the pages of a book. You press the treadle—and sink inches deep back in the soft cushions with the swoop of its take-off.

You click off miles by the score, the hundred—and no matter how far you range or what gait you travel, you can't get a whine out of that softly whispering engine!

The answer is you've got a car that was born to go places the way you want to go—smoother, safer, steadier than any car you've known.

Power in this flashing Buick is the power of eight straight valve-in-head cylinders. Its gait is the level gait of a car built close to earth with enough bulk to hold it there.

Its maneuverability is the quick mobility of a charger.

Yet the crowning touch of its creators was none of these but the figures they succeeded in writing on its price tag. The hard-to-realize fact is that this great straight eight can be bought for less than some of today's sixes!

There's just one way to get the true picture of Buick's standout value, and that's to drive it yourself. See us soon and get your order in, and you'll enjoy a summer like you've dreamed of!

NO OTHER CAR IN THE WORLD HAS ALL THESE FEATURES
★ VALVE-IN-HEAD STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINE
★ ANOLITE PISTONS
★ AEROBAT CARBURETOR
★ SEALED CHASSIS

★ "HIGH OUTPUT" GENERATOR
★ JUMBO LUGGAGE COMPARTMENTS
★ DOUBLE STABILIZATION

Nazis Ignored Dr. Eckener's Helium Demand

Refused To Sanction Purchase Of Helium Gas For Wrecked Hindenburg

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1937, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The Nazi government ignored the advice of its great dirigible expert, Dr. Hugo Eckener, to safeguard the Hindenburg by using non-inflammable helium instead of the highly dangerous hydrogen gas for its lifting power—and today its twisted, flame-riven skeleton lay at Lakehurst with its 33 dead as tragic testimony of the error.

The gray-haired genius who piloted Germany to its amazing achievements in lighter-than-aircraft sought in vain to obtain helium for the giant ship, federal officials recalled today.

But for Nazi Germany's nationalistic fiscal policy the Hindenburg might still be serenely and safely riding the skylanes.

Lived In Fear

Eckener lived in constant fear that just such an accident as last night turned the Hindenburg into a roaring torch might one day come, his intimates here said.

He planned to bring the huge ship to America on its maiden voyage filled with hydrogen and then to replace it with non-explosive helium.

Eckener contacted the U. S. government, which controls a world monopoly on helium, and obtained permission to purchase a sufficient supply of the gas.

Pleas Ignored

Then he put it up to his government. His pleas were ignored.

The rare helium gas, which has been used in American dirigibles for years, was extremely expensive. Hydrogen was comparatively cheap. Germany lacked foreign exchange and a deaf ear was turned to Eckener's pleas.

Eckener knew he was riding a powder keg so long as his ships were filled with hydrogen. He acknowledged these fears to naval experts during one of his voyages. He told them:

"My ships are the safest structurally in the world. But I want helium for their cells. It will give the final factor of safety."

Start Fund For Families Of Dead Members Of Crew

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 7.—Adolf Hitler led a bereaved nation today with a gift of $12,000 to aid families of dead members of the Zeppelin Hindenburg's crew. In a message to the Zeppelin company, the Reichsfuehrer said:

"I heartily sympathize with you over the tragic fate that has befallen your beautiful airship, and especially over the loss of the lives of many crew members and passengers."

Happy Reunion As Young Man Escapes In Airship Crash

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 7—Pierre Belin, 24, only Washington passenger on the Hindenburg, escaped from the burning ship by leaping 30 feet as the settling ship neared the ground, according to word telephoned here to relatives today.

His parents were at the air station to meet him, and for a time feared he had been lost. Young Belin eventually found his father and mother in the crowd at the air field and there was a joyous reunion.

Circus Parade Not Presented

Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus Announces Necessity For Eliminating Parade

Crowds which came down town this morning to see the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus parade were disappointed.

There was no parade.

According to circus officials, it has been found necessary to discontinue efforts to parade because of conditions encountered, and the size of the circus.

This is the first city that has been visited for a week where the circus ground was solid, and the heavy trucks and wagons could be moved easily, circus men stated. Rain has fallen at most every city visited during the past week, and the circus grounds have been deep mud.

Wait In Vain To See Airship

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 7.—Six hours after the Hindenburg crashed at Lakehurst, a man telephoned Coast Guard headquarters and said:

"Would you mind telling me when the Hindenburg is going to pass over New York City. My guests and I are setting in my pent house hoping to see it."

The Coast Guardsman explained what had happened. The man gasped, expressed his regret, and hung up.

Services At Mission Close Sunday Night

The Joy Bringers of California who have been holding special meetings at the City Rescue Mission, have found the way into the hearts of the people attending. Their services have benefited the mission in many ways and the inspirational messages have been very helpful.

The two girls will speak and sing tonight and will continue the services until Sunday evening. Reverend Archie W. Gibson is planning for an old-time mission rally on Saturday evening with testimony and prayer.

The services Sunday will be at 3 and 8 p. m.

Head Of Bureau Of Air Commerce Goes To Lakehurst

(International News Service)

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 7.—Dr. Fred Fagg, Jr., head of the Bureau of Air Commerce, held a pre-dawn conference with the German ambassador, Hans Luther, and Commander Rosendahl of the naval air station today prior to beginning an official inquiry into the Hindenburg disaster.

Doctor Fagg and the ambassador rushed here from Washington immediately upon learning of the unexplained explosion. Grief-stricken, Luther nevertheless, pleaded for the air-traveling public to maintain faith in passenger dirigibles. He said:

"I am horrified, but it could not have been a technical matter, and it must not cause us to lose faith in dirigibles. The Graf Zeppelin has operated safely and efficiently for eight years on the run from Europe to South America and elsewhere."

Truck Upsets At New Bedford

A truck from Canton enroute to that city with the product of the Union Brewing company, was crowded off the road one-fourth of a mile this side of the state line on Route 422 about midnight last night. The truck upset. So far as known the driver escaped injury. The beer which was in cases and kegs, was reloaded this morning and continued to Canton.

WHALE'S DOOM FEARED

That the whaling industry in the Antarctic is doomed because German and Japanese companies have failed to keep an agreement to save whales from complete extinction, was the prediction of Captain K. Davis, Australian director of navigation, when at Sydney recently.

Second Anniversary Is Reached By WPA

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 7.— The WPA observed its second anniversary on Thursday while congress wrangled over how much is to be allocated for its work during the next fiscal year.

President Roosevelt recommended $1,500,000,000. Congressional economizers want to cut it to a billion, or even to $750,000,000.

It was on May 6, 1935, that the president established WPA by executive order.

ABRAHAM A MAN OF PRAYER

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

James 5:16—"The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above text for May 9 is Genesis, Chapter 18, especially verses 17-32, the Golden Text being, James 5:16, "The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working.")

THE APOSTLE James gives us a good summary of the character of Abraham when he says, "Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness; and he was called the Friend of God."

Entertain Heavenly Visitors

What is more natural then, than that God should fellowship with his "friend" by visiting him? "And the Lord appeared unto him in the plains of Mamre: and he sat in the tent door in the heat of the day; and he lifted up his eyes and looked, and, lo, three men stood by him: and when he saw them, he ran to meet them from the tent door, and bowed himself toward the grounds, and said, My Lord, if now I have found favor in thy sight, pass not away, I pray thee, from thy servant." Abraham responds to this theophany by offering service in the hospitality of his tent: "Let a little water, I pray you, be fetched, and wash your feet . . . and I will fetch a morsel of bread, and comfort ye your hearts; after that ye shall pass on: for therefore are ye come to your servant. And they said, So do, as thou hast said." And every time we pray, "Come, Lord Jesus, be Thou our Guest," we offer our homes as sanctuaries for his divine presence with us, and, accepting our hospitality he sanctifies every phase of our domestic life.

The Blessing Of Hospitality

In the case of Abraham, his hospitality to his heavenly visitors brought the richest blessing Abraham's tent could crave, the gift of a son and heir: "Sarah thy wife shall have a son." What a promise to make to a man 99 years of age and to a wife 89 years! Little wonder that Sarah's faith staggered at the promise. "And the Lord said unto Abraham, Wherefore did Sarah laugh, saying, Shall I of a surely bear a child, which am old? Is anything too hard for the Lord?" So, upon the fulfillment of the promise, the child was named "Laughter", for this is the meaning of "Isaac". And in the supernaturalness of his birth as well as in the similarity of his offering himself in sacrifice, Isaac becomes a type of Christ our Lord.

Abraham's Intercession

Jesus called his disciples not servants but friends, "for the servant knoweth not what his Lord doeth." So Jehovah revealed to Abraham his friend, his purpose with regard to the impending destruction of the wicked city of Sodom, where Abraham's nephew, Lot, dwelt. This confiding of the divine purpose elicited from Abraham his great intercessory prayer in behalf of the wicked city. Abraham's conception of the justice of God rebelled at the thought that God should "destroy the righteous with the wicked." So he plead for the city "should there be 50 righteous within the city." Being answered in his prayer on the basis of 50 souls, he humbly and reverently reiterated his plea on the basis of 45, then 40, 30, 20, and finally 10, in every one of which God granted his petitions. Here Abraham ceased praying, but God did not cease giving, for he spared the righteous from the wicked, though only four were found, and they exceedingly imperfect types, as Lot, his wife and daughters evidence. Thus God always is willing and "able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us."

Nobody really knows the secret thoughts and intentions of anybody else except the men who wrote the constitution.

Flood Control Program Will Be Advanced

State Government Hurries Plans To Control Floods Within State

RECENT FLOOD CAUSES ACTION

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, May 7.—In the wake of Western Pennsylvania's most recent flood Secretary James Bogardus of the State Department of Forests and Waters, today said that the State Government will advance its flood control program in the State's three important watersheds—the Ohio, Susquehanna, and Delaware—just as quickly as the necessary land, easements and rights-of-way are acquired within the next few weeks.

Passage of the $5,000,000 flood control appropriation bill will expedite this matter, and the Legislature is expected to approve this measure quickly to make the money available as soon as possible for this work. The flood control work is chiefly in the hands of the State Water and Power Resources Board which is in the Department of Forests and Waters.

The Legislature during the past week attacked Pennsylvania's flood problem from several angles as the flood waters reached their peak in Pittsburgh and Johnstown.

It gave first approval to a $50,000,000 bond issue proposal for a long term flood control program; considered the proposal to construct a flood wall at Pittsburgh, and adopted plans urging the Water and Power Resources Board to provide immediate aid for Johnstown in the form of temporary stream channel improvements, and the elimination of obstructions.

If the 1939 Legislature also approves the $50,000,000 flood control bond issue it will be submitted to the voters of the State for ratification.

Secretary Bogardus stated that with the Water and Power Resources Board having authority to proceed with the Federal Government in a State-wide flood control program, and with the necessary funds provided to acquire the land as construction sites, there will be no further delays.

He said the department's flood control set-up was almost completed and that State engineers would begin preliminary work immediately.

He also stated that the Water and Power Resources Board was prepared to proceed with the installation of a State-wide flood warning system within the next few weeks.

$6000 Fund Sought For Wright Shrine

Memorial Planned At New Castle, Ind., Birthplace Of Plane Inventor

NEW CASTLE, Ind., May 7.—A weed-covered plot of five acres near here—site of the birthplace of Wilbur Wright, co-inventor of the airplane—may become a national shrine within the next few months.

Robert H. McIntyre, treasurer of the Wright Memorial Commission, said Congress will be asked to appropriate $6000 for construction of a memorial. The State purchased the site in 1929.

The original Wright home burned several years ago. At present there are no markers on the site, but several hundred persons visit there every year.

McIntyre explained that Congressman Finly H. Gray had indorsed the proposed appropriation and would introduce a measure in the House of Representatives.

Wright was born April 16, 1867, the son of Bishop Milton Wright, a United Brethern preacher. His early schooling was obtained in this vicinity, and he attended high school at Richmond.

He has been termed "the poet in whose brain the flying machine was born."

His brother, Orville, has been classed as "the man who took the poem and built it into a thing of wood and iron."

While living near here the Wright brothers were interested in all types of mechanics.

McIntyre said efforts would be made to construct an edifice which would be suggestive of Wright's contribution to aviation. He said a proposal to erect an aerial beacon in connection with the memorial has been abandoned.

ince 1929 numerous attempts to promote a memorial have failed.

Craft Unions In Movie Strike Accept C.I.O. Aid

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, May 7.—Hurling defiance at their parent body, the American Federation of Labor, the craft unions striking against the motion picture industry today tacitly accepted aid from the powerful Committee for Industrial Organization.

Various CIO groups all over the country have offered aid both in picketing the major film studios here and in boycotting theaters showing films made by the studios under fire.

The aid offered by the A. F. of L. was refused by Charles Lessing, head of the Federated Motion Picture Crafts, while he negotiated for peace with the Los Angeles Central Labor Council—local ruling A. F. of L. body.

When the council proposed for the crafts a peace which did not grant their one demand—a closed shop—Lessing today revealed he was standing by to allow the CIO to act.

CIO activities will start with the picketing of the gala opening here of "Captain Courageous" tonight, he said.

The film, produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, is to be shown at the swanky Carthay Circle theatre.

Meanwhile Lessing admitted he was considering calling a nation-wide boycott against theatres.

HINDENBURG CRASH CAUSE TO BE SOUGHT IN THOROUGH PROBES

pital adjoining the administration building. Most of the bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Twelve other bodies were believed to be beneath the wreckage.

The tragedy came with dramatic suddenness. The majectic-looking Hindenburg, Germany's "queen of the air" was nosing into a landing when to the amazement of onlookers flames burst near the stern of the ship.

Three Explosions

Like the crack of doom at least three rapid-fire explosions shook the proud air traveler from stem to stern and reverberated across the countryside. The blasts were heard for miles around.

As the ship catapulted to the ground the skeleton frame remained intact but the flames quickly swept in great rolls across the silk covering skin.

Members of the ground crew—about 150 men—were stunned. They had been under the big ship, pulling at the trail ropes to bring the Hindenburg up to the mooring mast. They leaped from the path of danger, scattering in all directions.

The flaming ship buckled amidships. The tail hit the ground first.

Horrified onlookers saw passengers and members of the crew leaping from the blazing inferno in desperate attempts to save their lives.

As some of the victims threw themselves to the ground the huge ship came down upon them and crushed them to the earth.

Wild Confusion

Shrieks rent the air. The victims rushed about in wild confusion. Out from the glowing girders of the ship two men scurried, their clothes almost entirely burned from their bodies.

Captain Max Pruss, who was in charge of the ship, climbed out of the control cabin in the forward part of the ship. He picked himself up from the ground, his face bloody and covered with grime.

George Seeck, aviation machinist and an eye-witness, said those in the vicinity had all they could do to keep Captain Pruss from rushing back into the seething flames in an effort to help others.

Captain Ernest Lehmann, who was aboard the Hindenburg in an advisory capacity, also leaped out of the control cabin as did Captain G. W. Stampp, the executive officer.

Lehmann seemed to be in a daze, he was black and red from burns, and his clothing was disheveled.

"I can't understand it," he exclaimed.

Purss, Lehmann and Stampp were reported to be seriously injured. They were taken to hospitals.

Flames Shoot Upwards

Huge shafts of flame shot upwards immediately after the explosions. Conflicting stories were related by eye-witnesses as to how many blasts occurred. Some said two explosions. Some six, some eight. The concensus was that there were three explosions, two of them very distinct.

In less than one minute after the flames broke out the silk fabric was destroyed from stem to stern.

Despite the crackling flames and the danger of further explosions, the ground crew valiantly went to work pulling out survivors and those crushed to death or burned.

Three children, survivors of the disaster, rushed about the field in tears.

Several women who had witnessed the catastrophe became hysterical and had to be led from the scene.

Bodies were carried to the big hangar nearby. The injured were first taken to the naval hospital here, and later sent to other institutions.

News of the tragedy spread quickly. Soon thousands of men and women rushed to the field by car and by foot. Ambulances, with sirens shreiking, came dashing to Lakehurst from miles around.

A cordon of army men from nearby Camp Dix and New Jersey state troopers were thrown around the field to keep civilians, even newspaper men out. For hours entrance to the field was almost impossible. Troopers stopped automobiles fully twenty miles from the scene.

It was expected that Fred De Fagg, Jr., chief of the air commerce bureau, will be in charge of the probe into the crash.

Formal Statement.

In a formal statement, Rosendahl said:

"The airship Hindenburg is a total loss from a hydrogen fire originating at or near the stern of the ship and in the ship during the landing operation about 6:25 (EST). The landing was being conducted in the normal manner. The ship's manila trail ropes had been dropped to the ground from an altitude of about 200 feet and there connected to corresponding ground ropes used in landing the ship.

"About four minutes after the ropes had been dropped, a fire appeared in the after part of the ship and worked progressively forward. The ship settled to the ground tail first, and was practically completely ablaze for the entire length by the time the ground was reached. It is impossible at this time to assemble the variuos stories in connection with the rescues of the personnel of the Hindenburg but it is apparent that there were several notable cases of rescue work by persons within the ship and without."

Rosendahl reported further that the fire burned for several hours and finally was extinguished with water and chemical extinguishers. He said that out of the total of 97 persons on board 64 escaped alive. According to such checkups as had been made, seven persons are still unaccounted for.

Twenty-six Bodies Recovered.

Included among the survivors, he said, were 44 members of the crew of 61 and 20 passengers out of a total of 36. Twenty-six bodies were recovered, nine still unidentified.

"Although trained naval airship personnel searched the wreckage completely upon sufficient cooling of the structure, no additional bodies were recovered," Rosendahl continued.

"Of the three airship captains aboard, Captain Lehmann and Captain Pruss escaped with bad burns. Captain Wittermann miraculously escaped without the slightest injury, as did a considerable number of the crew. Medical assistance was quickly avialable from many sources, and those injured who could not be accommodated at the dispensary at this station were taken to nearby hospitals."

Revealing that the air base would be closed to all visitors so that the wreckage of the dirigible can be kept intact, Commander Rosendahl said that while an "investigation logically will follow," he could not say at this time "what form of investigation will take place but it is expected that decisions will be reached by government agencies having such jurisdiction some time today."

Two Blast Theories

Two theories were generally advanced today as the probable cause of the disaster. One supposition was that static electricity at the time (it was drizzling) became so heavy that when the mooring lines were dropped and touched the damp ground a sufficiently heavy charge of electricity was generated to ignite the highly inflamable hydrogen gas used by the Hindenburg.

The other supposition was that a backfire from one of the engines which had been reversed just before the fire ignited the hydrogen gas.

Both theories were based on the assumption that the crew of the Hindenburg was releasing gas aboard ship in the process of making a landing.

F. W. Von Meister, general manager in the United States of the Deutsches Zeppelin Reideriei, expressed the opinion stormy conditions and the possible existence of static caused the disaster. He said:

"The ship was valving gas preparatory to landing at the time of the disaster in order to come down. It is possible that with the dropping of the forward lines from the bow and the stern lines to the ground that an electrical circuit induced by the static conditions caused the fire.

"Also, with the rear gondola engines throttled down in preparation for mooring, sparks are often set off by this process, and with the hydrogen gas being valved simultaneously caused the fire or explosion."

First 1937 Crossing

The Hindenburg was making its first 1937 crossing of the Atlantic from Germany. It was the twenty-first crossing between Germany and the United States.

Virtually everybody had considered the Hindenburg impregnable to disaster because of the smoothness with which her other trips had been made.

The huge cigar-shaped ship with its gleaming silver sides had been scheduled to arrive at the air station about 5:00 p. m. Her grounding was delayed by heavy clouds and the rolling of thunder, followed by a spring shower.

For about two hours the giant airship hovered in the vicinity of the Lakehurst station, prior to her attempt at a landing finally she turned her blunt nose down toward the field, swinging gracefully in from the clouds.

Precisely at 7:20 p. m. the Hindenburg was a few hundred feet above the field and was slowly descending and then—at 7:23 p. m.—there suddenly shot forth the burst of flames in the aft part of the ship, followed by explosions—and the Swastika-emblemed "Queen of the Air" was doomed.

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Dr. J. Hubert (Hube) Wagner, one of Pittsburgh's most prominent physicians and an all-American tackle at Pitt in 1915, Thursday sued for a divorce from his wife who divorced him at Reno five years ago.

Apparently ignoring the validity of Reno divorce, Dr. Wagner contended his wife, Marian Wagner, deserted him on November 30, 1930, the ninth anniversary of their wedding. The suit was filed today by coincidence on the same day Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation announced Dr. Wagner's appointment as chief surgeon in the Pittsburgh district.

State Industrial Police Force Bill Suggested By Law

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 7.—Creation of a Pennsylvania industrial police force to be "hired out" to private industry for protection of property and payrolls was provided in a bill introduced in the senate Thursday by Sen. Glenn R. Law, D., Mercer.

The proposed organization would be under the direct supervision of the governor and headed by a superintendent appointed by the chief executive.

Work Limiting Bill Reported

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 7. — The Dent-Haluska bill limiting the work week for women and minors to 44 hours was reported out on the floor of the senate Thursday by the labor and industry committee.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

HISTORIC HIDING PLACE

Do you know that a vault built in a barn was used as a hiding place during the Civil War for important Lancaster county court house records?

When Lee was near Wrightsville it was decided to move all important records from the court house in Lancaster. The barn on the property of H. Rufus Herr, at Strasburg, was selected, and a strong vault was built within the barn. Here the records were under lock.

Strasburg dates back to 1733, the year the first buildings were erected. The town was then known as "Hell's Hole." Later the Pennsylvania German name of "Bettlehausen" was selected. The English interpretation is "Beggartown." In 1816 the town was incorporated into a borough under the name of Strasburg, which means "dwellings on a long street."

It may be of interest to outdoor sportsmen to know that Strasburg is claimed to have the only manufacturing plant of fishing tackle in the state.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Congress Hopes To Save Money

Would Like Plan To Retrench Without Cutting Down Too Much

PROBLEM IS DIFFICULT ONE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 7.—What congress really is trying to do is to cut down the government's living expenses without reducing expenditures anywhere.

Naturally this is a difficult job.

Its difficulty accounts for the multiplicity of different schemes which statesmen on Capitol Hill are arguing over, to accomplish the desired result.

The complications involved in these various schemes are such as to make none of them easy to understand. It doesn't much matter, however, whether one understands any or all of them, for none of them will work.

ONLY ONE WAY

Of course the only way to reduce expenses is not to spend so much, the very method that congress is so determined to avoid adopting.

The plan the lgislators are endeavoring to hit on is something that will give an appearance of economizing without doing any of it. They know, as well as anyone, that it will fizzle out in the long run, but they hope it will fool the country until they have been elected another time or two.

The likeliest of these suggestions is advanced by Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri, who favors letting the president hold out 15 per cent of the allowance to any governmental agency, thus having a handsome collection of these 15 percentages to hand back to the nation at the fiscal year's end, as just that much saved. But the joker is that the president may, if needful, dribble the 15 per cent back into each agency as the year wags along.

A STRAIGHT-OUT REDUCTION

No sensible lawmaker doubts that the whole of the saved-up 15 percentages will have been dribbled back, in this fashion, before the year's end.

Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, is an exception among solons; he advocates a straight, horizontal 10 per cent slash. This is altogether too crass for the average politician. It would be an honest-to-goodness reduction, which politics can't stand.

Byrnes contends that his 10 per cent cut need not imply a 10 per cent cut in federal employes' pay; the economy could be affected by the firing of 10 per cent of government workers, leaving the remainder as well paid as ever.

This might satisfy the remaining 90 per cent. But the ousted 10? Oye, oye!

Few senators or representatives will risk even 10 percentage of such hostility.

NO "DIRECTIONS"

These are only a couple of proposals among many.

President Roosevelt simply said he wanted economy; he did not tell how.

Then he went fishing.

The headache has been left to Capitol Hill, and it's terrible.

HIGHER TAXES? HORRIBLE!

There is an antidote for over-expenditures:

Higher taxation!

And—oh! how a lawmaker hates to vote for that!

He did not hate it so much when the folk he was "socking" were only those in the "higher brackets"; there aren't many of them. But to antagonize the multitude?—with bushels of votes? That makes him squirm.

NOT TRUE

They say that, in England, taxes are vastly higher than in this country, and yet that the English are more prosperous than we are here.

It isn't true of the average man.

If, as a newspaper correspondent, I were assigned to England, on the same salary that I get here now, my first request would be for an expense allowance sufficient to offset the excess in English taxation rates. Otherwise I would suffer a cut in pay.

That is to say, in England, on the same income, I'd be worse off than I am here. I have lived there and I know.

Red Finger Nails Not Appropriate In Class Rooms

So Declares Dr. Dewey, Of Westminster College Faculty To Prospective Teachers

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 7.—"Red finger nails are hardly appropriate in the classroom," Dr. Joseph C. Dewey, Westminster college education and psychology head, told prospective teachers here today. "The first thing you know all the little girls will be coming to school wearing red polish, if the teachers use it."

Concerning the dress of teachers, Dr. Dewey suggested conservative dress as the most practical.

"I don't mean that you should be blackbirds and wear nothing but blacks and blues," the education head indicated. "On the contrary, I think a teacher should dress attractively in becoming bright colors, with scant use of dangling bracelets and not too many ruffles."

Teachers who really earn their apples from shining faced school boys must sympathize with them when their dog dies or when the baseball they knocked a homerun with lands in the butcher's display window. Children love kindness, and worship the teacher who comforts them.

"Don't show favoritism," Dr. Dewey warned. "In dosing out your good will don't be biased by the fact that one boy sent you a birthday card, and another girl's dad is secretary of the school board."

School teachers do well to know their current events, as well as a general cultural background, even so far as an appreciation of Chopin, and knowledge of the plot of "Gone With the Wind."

"Psychology is of great importance," Dr. Dewey commented, "whether or not to stand Jimmy in the corner if he throws paper wads."

"No profession in the world calls for so many varied skills as teaching, Dr. Dewey concluded, "from coaching a basketball team to setting a broken arm, waving hair, or making a charcoal etching."

Lead Pencil Is Man's Real Friend

Next to the dog and the horse, the lead pencil might be called "man's best friend." Certainly he is man's closest companion. Despite the fact that he receives rough treatment, his serenity remains unchanged; and, as long as he has a fraction of an inch of lead in his wooden casing, he will obey your every command, says a writer in the Christian Science Monitor. True he has the unpraiseworthy habits of snapping his point during moments of vexation, or of rolling into crevices and playfully vanishing when most wanted, but these are simply little tricks to call attention to his really good qualities. His one lamentable trait is his willingness to strike up an acquaintance with anyone who comes along and to follow indiscriminately his new-found friend into total disappearance.

The pencil, which you masticate to stimulate the processes of thinking or with which you scribble folderols on the "memo" pad when deeply engaged in telephone conversation, and which you misname when you call it a "lead pencil", has had an interesting but not as ancient a career as its universality might lead you to suppose. The gorgeous creatures that sparkle in many-colored brilliance in stationers' showcases, and their mechanical brethren which eject spare leads with sometimes startling rapidity, are products of this modern age which had its beginnings in the latter days of the Renaissance.

Americanism: Blaming federal courts for the delay of justice; leaving nine districts withou. judges for over a year while rivals scheme for appointment.

Merit orders have been conferred by the Moscow authorities on 172 members of the Red Navy of Russia for their work in developing the Northern Sea Route.

During the 1936 navigation season 160 commercial and expedition vessels sailed the route and of these 14 completed the entire passage. The route not only insures communication between the Western part of Russia and its remote eastern part but opens up an approach to the mouths of the Yenisei, Ob, Lena, Kolyma and other great rivers of the north.

Fred C. Kelly Latest Scribbler To Leave Big City For Rural Haunts

INTERNATIONAL CROOKS SUAVE

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 7—Thoughts while strolling: Anagram for Bill Robinson or rather his nick-name Bojangles—Banjo Legs. Good idea of that Arizona editor. He wants to popularize Mmrs. for Mr. and Mrs in society reporting. When a banquet begins to droop, they call on Bugs Baer. Et voila!

O. O. McIytrye

Dick Powell might be young Ted Roosevelt slightly shrunk Howard Hughes could pass for Col. Lindbergh in a dim light. And any Sealyham full face is a dead ringer for Ford Madox Ford Never knew a man named Fuller who wasn't a cut-up. The illustraotr's Grand Old Man—Howard Chandler Christy.

A San Francisco drama critic sums up Elaine Barry with: "She looks like Salome and acts like salami." Nobody can appear so flutteringly breathless as Ilka Chase. The town's richest producer—and one of the most successful—Dwight Deere Wiman. His latest is a hit.

Over-the-bump name: Benito Collada, of El Chico. Wherever you see Helen Worden, the society scribbler, you see her mother. The most constant of the mother boys is Clifton Webb. Fifth avenue's never failing summer touch: The window boxes of flowers in the Helen Gould mansion.

Rhyme: Still a glib talker is Mayor Walker. Nearest to the late Bert William's sense of Negro comedy—that of Eddie Green. Not many actors have made the years pay such youthful dividends as Bert Lytell. He could still be the flanneled lieutenant juvenile in the old musical comedys.

Max Miller, in sending in a copy of his "Mexico Around Me" autographs it thus: "And maybe one of these days you, too, by working hard may have this chance to go abroad."

Fred C. Kelly is among the increasing number of writers who have completely deserted the cities for the back country. For 30 years Kelly was a magazine writer, dividing his time between New York and Cleveland and for a several year period was a Washington political correspondent. About nine years ago he decided he was fed up with the hurrah and bought a farm near Peninsula, O., where he lives the year around doing farm work most of the time, writing when he feels like it, and bounding off to Russia to view first-hand the progress of the Soviet. It was Kelly who, riding in the subway toward Bowling Green one day, saw a passenger get on carrying a bright new axe. "Ah," beamed Kelly, "a woodsman from Brooklyn!"

Those several opulent windows along Fifth Avenue with invisible glass are often exciting. Articles of great value seem within such tempting reach. A night cop tells me that several times he has stood in the shadows to watch some fugitive figure shuffle up to one of the displays, look about quickly, reach and then be utterly bewildered when his hand touched glass.

Perhaps it is the E. Phillips Oppenheim influence, but few types interest me more than the international crook. I mean the suave, monocled and bespatted cosmopolite who speaks many languages and is at home in any gathering. I have met two at various times. One on an ocean liner who wore tweeds and full dress with equal je ne sais quoi. He met anyone on the boat he cared to meet without appearing officious. He was greeted at Southampton by two men from Scotland who had been tipped by wireless. And when he went down the gangplank in his first step toward entering Old Bailey he had an air—the dash that goes with wordliness. I read in a London paper he was an old offender and got an eight-year sentence.

The other roaming rascal was pointed out to me in the little room at Ciro's in Paris by Machael Arlen, who had used his counterpart in a short story in a British magazine. He was in immaculate whitetied elegance, dining alone with an alert, proud and piercing look. Every gesture bespoke culture and breeding. Several weeks later I saw him sauntering along a promenade at Cannes at the cocktail hour. And when he sat down at a terrasse table I occupied one adjoining and tried to engage him in conversation by some casual observation about the weather. He replied with a grimace of a smile that wavered between politeness and haughtiness and then shook out his folded Paris Herald to indicate he cared for no further talk. In a life of may rebukes I do not believe I ever felt quite so thoroughly squelched.

There is no place where the male feels so unspeakably silly as in a woman's hat shop. I was made especially conscious of this today when, just before entering a certain lady turned to me—and then said "Get that smirk off your face."

Goat Gives Birth To Quintuplets

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., May 7.—A goat on a farm at nearby Stoudt's Ferry today pressed for recognition as America's premiere Nanny after giving birth to quintuplets. The birth of five kids was said to be rare in the annals of stock raising in the United States.

The goat quintuplets were born on the farm of Roscoe F. Patt.

Commenting on their birth, Dr. Harry B. Roshon, local veterinary, said:

"Herd owners generally expect a goat to produce only one kid. While the birth of two is common, three are very rare. I have never heard of five born at one time."

The quints were reported in the best of health.

Argentina Bonds Show Strength

(International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, May 7.—Argentine Government Bonds are being quoted higher at the present time than at any previous period in the nation's history. "Credito Publico" Bonds, which formerly had never risen above about 96 today are quoted at from 100.90 to 102.50.

This phenomenal situation is attributed by observers to the fact that Argentine farmers, who are again prospering, are investing their earnings in bonds instead of in expensive automobiles and other luxuries.

"we women like to talk about our troubles"

'THAT'S especially true when they have to do with the home!

I had my share... battling for months with soap and this stubborn water... watching 'soap scum' dull my washings ... leave a greasy film on dishes. At best I got only half the results I expected!

Then one day I was lucky enough to tell my troubles to a CLIMALENE user!

From her I learned about the grease present in all dirt ... grease that soap and ordinary cleansers can't cut through!

I was glad to try anything... lost no time trying CLIMALENE. I found it goes to work on grease instantly! Then water is really able to wash the dirt away.

Now I have fresh, white washings, sparkling dishes, no more cleaning troubles!"

Pirates Confident Of Good Showing In Pennant Race

Pirates Have Stronger Infield This Year, Will Be Help To Pitchers

Lee Handley Has Made Good In Big Show, Brandt Will Win Lot Of Games

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 7.—The Pirates admit they have neither a Dizzy Dean nor a Carl Hubbell among them, but to a man they insist today their pitching is good enough to win the pennant this year, and unlike many a pirate team of recent years, they feel confident they will win it.

The ever-youthful Waite Hoyt, dean of the Pirate pitchers, the most articulate of all ball players and admittedly the greatest student of pitching in the country, had a few new slants to offer the fans of the country today. Said Waite:

"Most fans fail to realize that half a pitcher's strength lies in the second base pair behind him. In a way, you might say no pitcher is stronger than his infield support.

Depends On Infield

"The fans around the circuit have had an idea for years that the Pirate pitching was weak. They were mistaken. The pitching was fair enough but our second base spot wasn't.

"To show you how it works: Larry French was never better than a 50-50 pitcher with us but he went to the Cubs and became a big winner. Why? Simply because he had a great pair behind him at second base. And you'll see that Dutch Brandt, who couldn't win with the Dodgers, will be a big winner for us, because we now have a great pair around second. Put a bum pair behind Hubbell and you'd see an awful slump in his pitching effectiveness.

Double Plays Help

"You see, if a second baseman or a shortstop fails to come through with that double play ball, it may mean four or five runs. The runs in themselves aren't so harmful as the fact that a pitcher has to stay out there throwing maybe 10 or 15 minutes longer than he should. If he doesn't feel that in the early innings, he surely will late in the game.

"Few fans realize how much that rest on the bench between innings means to a pitcher.

Handley Good

"That kid Lee Handley at second for us may mean the difference between fourth place and first to us! He saves us many a big inning. And he's already saved us three games that we would have lost with an ordinary second baseman.

"Between them, Arky Vaughn and Handley will save us pitchers plenty of wear and tear and take us out of many a tough spot.

"You're going to see what you may think is a big improvement in Pirate pitchers this year when actually what you will see is a better pair at second base making the pitching look better."

The radical may hate the upper class, but his autobiography always drags in the names of big-wigs who spoke to him.

Louisville Is Ready For Big Kentucky Derby

Carnival Spirit Prevails In Old Kentucky Town As Derby Eve Arrives

TWENTY HORSES TO FACE BARRIER

By DEE SPARR
International News Service Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7.—When racing secretary Will Shelley finishes tabulating the field this morning for tomorrow's $50,000 Kentucky derby, the names of 20 or more 3-year-olds will be on it.

No important changes in the list of likely starters is anticipated. Out of the probable 20 or more whose names will be dropped in the entry box, it is estimated that at least 18 will go postward.

Gerald was definitely declared out yesterday. The Mrs. W. H. Furst colt suffered crack heels in his last workout and it was deemed best to withdraw him from the field.

White Tie and Old Nassau, which have been considered lukewarm possibilities, are now reported to be also out of the race, as though their status will not be definitely known until the entries are released.

When Gerald was withdrawn it proved a blessing in disguise for Trainer Earl Sande, who will saddle Sceneshifter and Fencing for the race. Jockey Jack Westrope, who was to have ridden Gerald, immediately was grabbed by the former jockey king to ride one of his charges. If Sande is successful in obtaining the services of Jockey Stout, he will ride Sceneshifter with Westrope getting the mount on Fencing.

Speculation was rife this morning as to how many of the Milky Way farm candidates would be named by Trainer Bob McGarvey, and how many he actually will send to the post. It was confidently expected that he would enter reaping reward, the staunch second betting choice, Military and Case Ace.

Following his workout between races yesterday, Townsend B. Martin's Court Scandal, surprise winner of the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah, also went on the doubtful list. He looked unimpressive in working a mile in 1:42 2-5.

Conn-Rankins Bout Arranged

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Maybe it's all talk and ballyhoo but at any rate Pittsburgh's "boy promoter," Elwood Rigby today had set May 20 as the tentative date when his star protege, Billy Conn, up-and-coming middleweight, is to tangle with Oscar Rankins, red-headed ebony-skinned slugger from Chicago.

"While it was not my desire to put this match on," said Rigby "Conn must go through with it now and Rankins will not grant a release."

HIGHLAND LEADS LEAGUE

The Highland Men's class golfing team leads the New Castle Church Golf league today as the 1937 season swings under way. The league opened last night at the Castle Hills course and according to President W. I. Clark, the opening was a very auspicious one.

Highland Men's class by virtue of six forfeits from the St. Mary's team, takes the league lead, with the First U. P., First Baptists and First M. E. teams hot on the tail of the Highlands with five points apiece.

Medalist honors fell to Ted Woodrow with a 40, while Cliff Headland of the First M. E. team, had a 41. Ralph Davis had a 42, and Dr. W. W. Horner a 43, and Eddie Long a 44, for the lowest scores recorded. Mose Mancine, Castle Hills pro, supervised the starting of the matches. The course was in fine shape, despite the two-day rain.

The results:

Highland Men's class 6, St. Mary's 0.

First U. P. 5, First Christians 1.

First M. E. 5, Mahoning Churches 1.

First Presbyterian 4½, Highland U. P. 1½.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Buddy Baer, 242, won by a technical knockout over Jim Wilde, 208, in the fourth round at London last night. Buddy dropped Wilde three times in the first round and the referee stopped the fight when Wilde was in no condition to continue the fight in the fourth. Buddy disregarded Wilde's straight left to club him into submission with rights. Baer put Wilde down again in the third and dropped Wilde again in the fourth and the fight was terminated. Petey Sarron, Alabama, National Boxing Commission featherweight champion, was disqualified in the ninth round of his fight with Dave Crowley for hitting with his open glove, after repeated warnings by the referee.

College baseball teams were busy yesterday. Duke beat St. John's 3-0, Georgetown won from West Virginia 7-1, Maryland downed Dickinson, 12-3, Holy Cross vanquished Colgate, 10-4, and DePauw upset Franklin 2-1. In tennis Georgetown won from West Virginia 8-1 and Michigan defeated Indiana 8-1. The tennis match between Waynesburg and California Teachers was postponed.

Walter L. Pate, captain of the United States Davis Cup Tennis team holds hope of beating Australia at Forest Hills, May 29-31. He believes that if either Frankie Parker or Bitsy Grant can win one point, the United States can win. He regards both teams as basically of the strength as last year and the question is which team has made more progress.

Two former middleweight champions, Lou Brouillard and Ted Yarosz, are docketed for 10 rounds of action at Boston tonight. . . . George Baratko, Cleveland, won a split verdict over Tiger Joe Randall, McKeesport, in the latter city last night in a 10-round bout.

Indians Upset Senators 4 To 2

Roy Wetherley Comes Through With Hit That Wins For Cleveland

PIRATES HALTED BY VAN MUNGO

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 7.—Nobody cares to go overboard on baseball predictions this early in the season. But enough has been seen of both major leagues to give a fair inkling of what may be in store through the summer.

One of the most interesting developments of the budding season is that old Connie Mack has come up with two or three young pitchers who have enough stuff to win. In the pre-season forecasts everybody conveniently picked the Athletics for seventh or eighth and let it go at that.

Two of his rookies, Thomas and Williams, between them yesterday held the White Sox—who have power but no pitching—to six hits and the A's won, 3 to 1.

Tigers Wallop Yanks.

The Yanks stacked four second-stringers against the Tigers' Tommy Bridges—a real pitcher—and the result was a 12-6 walloping for the Yanks.

Johnny Marcum, who is staging quite a comeback for the Red Sox, bested Tietje and Knott of the Browns and won, 2 to 1, and Roy Wetherly's homer gave the Indians a 4-2 decision over the Senators.

The Giants ran up against Lee Grissom, a new lefty of the Reds, garnered by five puny hits and were shut out, 4 to 0.

The Pirates' mad rush was halted by Van Mungo of the Dodgers who had no trouble turning in his third straight victory, 9 to 5. In a five-inning game stopped by rain, Bill Lee of the Cubs held the Phils to one hit and earned his abbreviated shutout, 1 to 0. The Cards and Braves were washed out.

Home Run Hitters

Greenberg, Tigers; Cochrane, Tigers; Weatherly, Indians; Kampouris, Reds; Todd, Pirates; Lavagetto, Dodgers.

Leaders: Johnson, Athletics 4; Walker, Tigers 3; Selkirk, Yankees 3; Greenberg, Tigers 3; Bartell, Giants 3; Ott, Giants 3; Kampouris, Reds 3.

TALES IN TIDBITS

NEW YORK, May 7—The hardest tournament among golfers—the P G. A.—will be played this year May 24, on one of the nation's toughest courses, the Pittsburgh Field club... Denny Shute's iron game should fare well there....and he may be the first guy since Leo Diegel (1928-29) to win the professional title two years in a row....No one seems to know the exact age of Jim Ten Eyck Syracuse crew coach, but it is reported he was stroke oar in the boat that Washington coaxed across the Delaware...Morris Arnovich of the Phils isn't threatening Hank Greenberg's title as No. 1 Jewish ball player, but the young man from Superior, Wis., certainly has set the National league on fire.

Chicago's Arlington park race track, opening in July will offer $376,000 in stakes and purses.... Omaha will try again in the Ascot Gold Cup in England, June 17, and if he fails, the son of Gallant Fox will return to America....last year, you may remember Omaha was beaten by a nose by a filly named Quashed....Big Bill Tilden is minus a finger on his racquet hand....The United States Davis Cup team is hotter than you think..if the committee decides to use Don Budge, Gene Mako and Bitsy Grant exclusively against the Australians, there's an even chance of knocking the Austrian team back Down Under.

In their first nine home games the Yankees drew 208,000 paid admissions, an average of more than 23,000 per game....Lee Grissom, Reds southpaw, who has been battling the enemy with his fists as well as with curves, is the quiet sort of gent who walks up and takes a Sunday punch at any geezer who's annoying him ....and does his talking later.... Grissom's recent battle with Al Todd Pirates catcher, occurred three days after Lee became a husband.

Catcher-Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Phils has been staying on the sidelines this year because of the punch Bill Atwood takes to the plate ..I guess the Dodgers are going to be all right under Burleigh Grimes, after all....Gilbert Brack who has been hitting hard for the club, stole a base the other day and it wasn't occupied....Coach Harry Stuhldreher expects to save six sophomores playing regular positons on the Wisconsin first team in fall, and admits they're good.

Rip Radcliff of the White Sox eats his dessert first at dinner.... Dan Cahill of Chicago is the country's No 1 fan....he hasn't missed a home game of the Cubs in 25 years....Hell-Driver (Lucky) Teter has a car in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis, May 31 but won't drive it himself....Teter's speciality is crashing automobiles to demonstrate they are safe if you know how to wreck them....he has wrecked 356 cars in his career, starting with a fair in Wooster, O., five years ago when he proved to the management he could turn a car over several times and come out unhurt.... Teter says the way to avoid being injured is to grasp the steering wheel firmly with one hand, hook the heel about the bottom of the steering wheel and brace his left hand against the side of the car.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The little-old-man-who-won't-listen is going back into Madison Square Garden and find out tonight whether 15 heart-breaking rounds won't make him learn. Probably they won't, since the only thing you can't teach Tony Canzoneri is to know when he's licked, even though time holds the indicator and fate calls the shots.

His opponent will be the Herkimer horse-fly, Lou Ambers, and on the decision will ride the lightweight championship of the world. Tony has held it twice, which is something nobody ever did before. He's trying to win it a third time, which probably is something nobody ever will do. For they've been telling Tony he's through.

He has heard that before, of course., and he's fooled them. But this time he seems to be fooling himself. He was born almost 30 years ago, he has spent 12 of them in the ring and the last two have found him flat on his feet and a mark even for suckers. Ambers is no sucker.

He proved that last September when he punched Tony around for 15 rounds and took the title. He proved it again only a few weeks ago in a tough ten-rounder with Pedro Montanez. He'll probably prove it again tonight.

Offers To Lead Expedition For Missing Redfern

New Clue Uncovered As To Whereabouts Of Missing Flier In Brazil Jungle

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—Another clue to the whereabouts of Paul Redfern, the aviator who disappeared in the wastes of a South American jungle, arose here today in a letter from British Guiana.

The author, Malcolm L. Sarran, who described himself as an employer of aboriginal natives, said they had found a piece of aluminum rod such as is used in planes on a hill as well as other traces of the presence of a white man in the custody of the natives. Sarran wrote the New York postmaster general, who turned the letter over to Pittsburgh postal authorities. He offered to lead an expedition to find Redfern.

Anarchists Gain Control In Barcelona

(International News Service)

PERPIGNAN, France, May 7—Anarchists have once more attained control of Barcelona, according to reports reaching here today, and have delivered an ultimatum to the Catalonian government to dissolve its shock troops.

The government, following a bloody outbreak in which anarchists drove policemen from Barcelona and participated in fighting that cost 100 lives, won control of the situation yesterday, but only briefly. After regaining control, the anarchists told the government its shock troops must be dissolved within 24 hours or they "will take the matter into their own hands."

Meanwhile, the French consulate was reported menaced by anarchists, who claimed rightist sympathizers were being sheltered inside the consulate building.

The consulate appealed to French ships in Barcelona for aid and 200 armed sailors were sent to reinforce the consulate guard.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Here is another day . . . let's start out with the Rummage Sale again . . . Elsie from the South Side answers Mary from the East Side . . . Elsie says "I venture to say that the people of the South Side have never asked the 400 or any other group to bring out their cast-offs and put them on sale. If the people of the South Side are in need of clothes, as Mary says they are, why don't she and her like be good eggs and give to the needy what they have to sell. The primary idea back of the whole thing is to make money and not to relieve the needy, except of their money. I was under the impression that the Administration was taking care of all the needs of the people, "both real and fanciful" . . . now that is what Elsie of the South Side has to say . . . are their any other remarks . . . a very good point was brought out their . . . you are entitled to your own opinion.

Here is a novel idea . . . submitted from Wampum . . . you no doubt have been reading Joe Poluka . . . the question arose how Mr. Walsh managed to keep carpet slippers on while he ran so fast in Wednesday's paper . . . I wouldn't mind knowing that secret myself . . . what is your solution of the problem.

This question has been asked time and time again . . . "What has happened to the lovelorn business" . . . no requests, no answers is my only answer . . . maybe the folks don't believe in my way of advising the love sick . . . I don't know.

Tomorrow down in the south . . . the famous Kentucky Derby will be held . . . New Castle is to be represented by two couples that we know of . . . maybe more, we haven't heard as yet to this possibility . . . D. H. Treloar and wife . . . A. H. Owens and Miss Hazel Bergland . . . that will be a real show folks and the crowd will be large . . . here is a tip on the race . . . don't bet.

* * *

The greatest tragedy of the year happened last night . . . the giant airship VonHindenburg made it's last trip taking too many lives along . . . it's hard to believe that such a thing could happen . . . after a'l the trips it has made . . . it was the most staple piece of air equipment in the world . . . man has not conquered nature as yet.

Stock Market Moves Upward

Rails Lead In Market Upturn Shortly After Opening Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 7.—With rails again in the van, the stock market turned moderately upward today. Trading continued at a relatively slow pace. Price changes were of minor proportions.

The last-hour rally of yesterday was extended as the market started the day, but this attracted some profit-taking and brought considerable irregularity through the list. Just before noon, however, fresh buying touched off in the carrier division, lifted the general run of stocks above previous closing levels.

Atchison and N. Y. Central held the spotlight in the rails. The former again climbed into new high ground for a point gain, while New York Central after opening on a block of 12,000 shares advanced almost as much. Union Pacific was up a point closely followed by Pennsylvania.

Steel shares were steady to slightly higher, after earlier softness. Bethlehem was best in the group, rising almost a point, but U. S. Steel held around last night's final price.

In the motors, Chrysler ruled moderately higher as General Motors lagged. Copper shares were mostly behind plus signs, Cerro De Pasco and Phelps-Dodge leading.

Glass shares were dull favorites. Owens-Illinois Glass spurted more than four points to a new top above 91, while Libby-Owens-Ford ran up more than two. Lima Locomotive jumped more than two in the rail equipments.

Bonds were generally improved, governments scoring small gains. Grains eased somewhat along with cotton.

Plan Dedication Of New Building At Ellwood City

Councilman P. R. Fike To Head Committee In Charge Of Program

EXTEND COMPLETION TIME LIMIT TO JUNE

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—Plans are under way for a formal and elaborate dedication of Ellwood City's new municipal building sometime after June 1, it was announced by the borough council at its regular meeting in the city building last night.

Councilman P. R. Pike was named as chairman of the affair upon a motion of council. President A. J. Howell will select wour more members to the committee. Two hundred dollars was appropriated for this purpose.

Upon recommendation of the special building committee, J. P. Meneice, chairman, the completion date of the building was extended to June 1. This was due to proper and legal delays in obtaining extra grants and equipment not in the original bid. This will include a change in sureties for the contract and a waiver of all damages until the new extension date. The borough officers were authorized to sign any papers in regards to this matter.

The building committe was instructed to investigate the cost of moving the Legion Memorial tablet 11 feet west of the present position near the new building, and then report back to council.

The committee is also to purchase and install four floodlights for the lighting up of the new building at night. Seven were recommended by an illumination engineer, but after some discussion council decided on four.

Roofing Of Curb Market Favored By Boro Council

To Thoroughly Investigate Cost of Construction On Sixth Street

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—Borough council of Ellwood City went on record as favoring the construction of a roof for the curb market on Sixth street for the farmers of the district, following a motion by Councilman P. R. Fike at the monthly meeting in the city building last night.

Mr. Caplan and Mr. Biordi objected to it at this time due to pressure of other matters that must be taken care of in the near future. Borough Manager L. W. Monroe, reported that he had investigated the possibility of the construction with scrap tubing but discovered that the cost would be greater than if wood were used. After some discussion it was decided to thoroughly check the matter and find the best and cheapest way for this construction, which will be located on Sixth street, next to the fire department building. If the cost is not prohibitive council would be in favor of it.

Commercial Users Get New Retail Electric Rates

Council Offers Flat Monthly Rate And Other Concessions To Consumers

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—In accordance with a request from the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce, the borough council took action, at its monthly meeting in the city building Thursday night, to offer the commercial consumers of electricity a new rate.

The plan was presented by the Electric Light and Gas committee and upon its recommendation, it was decided to prepare an ordinance to this effect. There was some objection and considerable discussion.

The new rate is to go into contract for 12 months with commercial consumers of electricity, on a flat monthly rate for 500 killowatts. Anything in excess of this, the consumer will receive 20 per cent free current of his average monthly consumption. After this is used, then there will be a charge of two cents per killowatt hour. This plan is proposed to go into effect with the June monthly billing.

Council Sets Tax Millage At Eleven Mills

Same Tax Millage As Last Year Accepted By Borough Council Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—In compliance with a previous statement, borough council did not increase taxes in Ellwood City, considering the construction of the new municipal building, when they met for their monthly session Thursday night.

The city solons set the tax millage at 11¼ mills, the same as last year, and divided up as follows: General fund 4½ mills, sinking fund 5¾ mills, library fund 1 mill, total 11¼ mills. Council unanimously passed this on first reading following a resolution to this effect endorsed by Councilman Harry Caplan.

The budget had been carefully prepared before and discussed by council in a committee session.

Two Contracts Let By Boro Council

Resignation Of Desk Sergeant Accepted; Receive Many New Applications

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7. — Two contracts were awarded by the Ellwood City borough council at its monthly meeting in the city building Thursday night.

Upon recommendation of the sewer committee G. W. Blank Supply company was awarded the contract as low bidder on furnishing terra cotta pipe to be used in the construction of a sewer.

Bids for writing property damage and liability insurance for borough motor vehicles are to be equally divided between R. H. Aylesworth, Howard Johnson Agency and J. E. VanGorder of this city, as a result of the recommendation of the rules and regulations committee.

The resignation of Louis Conway as day desk sergeant to be effective at once was accepted by council. Mr. Conway accepted a position in the local tube plant. He expressed his appreciation to council for its co-operation and kindness during his service, through President A. J. Howell. Many applications were received by the borough clerk to fill this vacancy. These were referred back to the police committee for a check-up and report back to council.

Upon recommendation of the fire and water committee R. L. White was elected as a driver in the fire department at a salary of $132 per month. Council had three applications for this position, one of which was withdrawn before meeting time.

Scouts Ask For Rooms In New City Building

Council Agrees To Make Arrangements After Taking Possession

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7. — Boy and Girl Scouts of Ellwood City made a request for an office room on the second floor and a meeting room in the basement of the new municipal building, at the regular meeting of the borough council last night in the city building. J. Nelson was the spokesman as the representative of the local Scout Council.

He pointed out that since funds have been raised for an elaborate scout program this year, a room in the basement that scouts could use from four to six days out of the week, would be ideal. The room on the second floor would be used as an office by both the Boy and Girl Scout officials. It is planned to organize four more troops in the city.

Burgess Russell T. Sitler declared that the granting of this request would be a fine gesture on the part of council. It would go much towards the developing of real manhood and citizenship by permitting the boys to meet in such an instructive and beneficial manner. President of Council A. J. Howell stated that this matter would be worked out after the building is accepted by the borough. Council is in favor of the request he stated. The old building may be turned over to the scouts.

Rat Cleanup Week Is Suggested Here

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—There has been Boy Scout week, clean-up week, insurance week in Ellwood City, and now there may be a rat clean-up week.

Anyhow this was the request made by Samuel Luman before the borough council at its monthly meeting in the city building Thursday night. "You sponsor or support various types of weeks, gentlemen, why not back a rat clean-up week. I mean the four-legged kind," declared Mr. Luman. "The city is really infested with the rodents and a push from you would do much towards improving our city. Proper information and material for disposing of them could be obtained from a federal bureau in Washington, D. C., and with council handling this, the situation would soon be remedied."

Council was rather dumbfounded at this assertion but agreed to investigate this situation.

Seniors Delight Large Throng With Class Play

Cast Of 15 Achieves Much Glory With Clever Presentation Thursday

TROUBLES OF FAMILY AMUSE AUDIENCE

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—"Have I got trouble? Everything happens to me," said Richard Barrington, alias Russell Sibole, at the Lincoln auditorium Thursday night when the Senior A class presented its play "Honor Bright" before a large first night crowd.

The trials and tribulations of this person over his fiancee and having another woman pose as her in a case of emergency in order to impress the family, kept the audience in an uproar. If he had trouble, then you should have seen matters when the actual fiancee arrived on the scene and poor Richard was practically a bigamist. Then trouble piled on him with the force of an avalanche. But this was mild in comparison with his later realization when he discovered that the truth of that well known adage, "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned."

Nevertheless, after many exciting and hectic experiences matters settled themselves best for all concerned. But it was a situation that no one would want to live through again.

This amateur production last night will go down on the records as one of the best ever produced in Lincoln auditorium. It is a distinct tribute and credit to the director, Miss Elizabeth McKnight, who has been associated with a number of past successes. The members of the cast just seemed to suit their part to a "T" and covered themselves with glory in their portrayals. Rose Segedi played the title role, Olive Louise Smith as the mother of Richard, and then there were Karl Krebs, Helen Downing, Harden Green, George Robuck and Maxine Hart, each doing splendidly with an important role.

The cast included:

Mrs. Barrington—Olive Louise Smith.
Richard Barrington—Russel Sibole.
Rev. Wm. Carton—Harden Green.
Mrs. Peggy Carton—Helen Downing.
Honor Bright—Rose Segedi.
Rev. James Schooley—Karl Krebs.
Bill Drum—George Robuck.
Tot Marvel—Maxine Hart.
Watts—George Horwatt.
Annie—Marjorie Taylor.
Foster—Wm. Faleu.
Micheal—Ken Price.
Jones—Art Hilliard.
Maggie—Naonii Mitchel.
Simpson—Don Marshall.

There will be a repeat performance tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

Rotary District Governor To Be Ellwood Guest

Will Attend Club Meeting In Ellwood City Next Thursday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—The Rotary dinner was held in the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening.

The meeting was in charge of President Frank E. Moore. Announcement was made the district governor, John Pfeil, would be the guest of honor at the meeting next Thursday evening. The governor will meet with all officers and chairmen of committees at 5 o'clock. The chairmen will strive to spend the next week in putting their respective houses in order.

Harold Seidel had charge of the program and acknowledged his indebtedness to Ray Humphrey for securing the speaker of the evening, "Mac" McCullom from Pittsburgh airport, who gave a most informing and interesting address on "Air Travel."

Little were the speaker and auditors conscious that, while they were contemplating the marvels in the development of air travel, that, at that very time, the world famous Hindenburg was falling in tragic explosion and burning.

Mr. McCullom told of the development of transcontinental flying since 1929, when a 48-hour schedule was adopted. He explained how pilots are guided by beams and can land safely while flying "blind."

Rural Schools Concluded Term

Pupils Are Out For Summer Vacations In Ellwood District Schools

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—"No More Pencils, No More Books," this is the song that is being sung this week, happily and merrily, by hundreds of rural school pupils, and no doubt by teachers as well, whose various schools have concluded their schedules for another year.

Most of the rural schools marked their closing with picnic dinners for their parents and friends and many presented splendid programs of songs, recitations and playlets. The consolidated schools celebrate the occasion with hikes.

In Wayne township the Locust Ridge, Mt. Hope and Quarry schools closed on Thursday and the occasion was marked with regret by many of the pupils, as well as by many of their parents, who attended this same school, as next year these one-room buildings will be closed and the pupils will attend the new consolidated Wayne township school. The other schools of this township were "out" today.

The North Sewickley, Marion, Perry and a part of Franklin township schools brought their terms to a successful close on various days of this week. The North Star school of Franklin township delayed their opening for several days last September, owing to repairs being made on the building, and Tuesday, May 11, will wind up their term for this year.

Friday, May 21, is the last day of the Ellport boro schools and the pupils are just a little envious of their friends and playmates of the surrounding schools, but they had their "inning" last fall when their school did not begin until the last of September, awaiting the completion of the new Ellport school.

In all of the townships there was a fine attendance record for the past term and many of the pupils were presented with perfect attendance awards.

Many of the eighth grade pupils of Perry and Wayne township will take the high school entrance examination on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at previously designated schools. Several weeks ago, a preliminary examination was given to the eighth grade pupils, in preparation for this final test.

Elect Street Commissioner

Council Elects New Street Commissioner But Still Has Old One Yet

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—In about 20 minutes Ellwood City had three different street commissioners by motion, before they finally decided on one—and then in the end they gave them all jobs, when Council held its regular monthly meeting in the city building last night.

It was one of the most peculiar actions ever witnessed at a city council meeting.

Robert Linn has been the street commissioner for the borough of Ellwood City for the past 25 years and at present is confined to his home with ill health. As a recommendation from the street committee, Councilman P. N. Harlan, chairman, moved that Charles V. Patton be elected as the new street commissioner. "What about Linn?" asked E. J. Reinheimer. "There has been no resignation or action by council in regards to this." "Let's make him temporary commissioner then, pending a report of the committee which confers with Mr. Linn," said J. P. Meneice. Mr. Harlan then withdrew his motion with the consent of his second.

"I would like to nominate Eugene Bleakney for this position before we vote on the matter, and have the result become effective on May 16," said Mr. Reinheimer. "But we had just agreed to confer with Mr. Linn before taking any action," declared Mr. Harlan. "I have a motion to make if the other is withdrawn," came from P. R. Fike. This was done and Mr. Fike moved that Council adjourn and go into committee session. After a few minutes Council returned and unamously elected Mr. Bleakney as street commissioner and Mr. Patton as caretaker of Ewing Park following a recommendation of the street committee.

After some other business was transacted, Mr. Reinheimer moved that Mr. Linn be made assistant street commissioner at a salary to be decided upon later by council. This was also unaminously passed by council.
